"STATE OF WAR;" NOT DECLARATION

Door Closed on Open Mind but Resentment is Noted in Administration Circles Over Suggestions That Definite Plans are Desirable.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, March 28.—Pressure to have the United States declare war on Germany, coming from certain influential political sources, will be resisted in administration circles. Canvass of leading members of the senate and house foreign affairs committees today indicated that there is no sympathy with such a move at present. Members believe that the United States can best serve the interests of its people by declaring, through resolutions of congress, that a state of war exists entirely through the acts of aggression of Germany herself.

Practically every official in Washington who has studied the situation is agreed that Germany's acts have brought on a "state of war." They point out that for the United States to declare war and not recognize this fact would be to surrender a strategic advantage and to depart from the time-honored traditions of the nation. Because of this they say that it is extremely unlikely that the president will suggest any additional step other than to accept the fact that Germany is warring on this government and to ask congress to authorize the necessary reprisals.

While no one is authorized to speak for the president, there were evidences today of resentment in administration quarters over suggestions that the president had no definite plan of action, but simply was drifting along waiting to see what would develop. While it is true that he has an "open mind" insofar as the receipt of suggestions from everywhere is concerned, no one who knows what has been going on behind the scenes since the announcement by Germany that she would no longer recognize pledges, can doubt that the president has laid down a straightway course which he intends to follow. The first move of this kind was the calling of congress into extraordinary session. The very fact that congress alone holds the power to pass upon war made that action most significant.

A Possible Program.

Congressional leaders believe that the president's legislative program includes the following:
Security of the nation by congress that by reason of her acts Germany has created a state of war between herself and the United States, and endorsement of action so far taken to maintain "armed neutrality" and to protect American interests.

Authorization to use the army and navy "in every necessary way to continue protection of the United States and to resist German aggression."

Authorization of from half a billion to a billion dollars for the national defense.

Authorizing the creation of a completely equipped secret service to cope with the "spy" situation and providing for the punishment of all enemies of the country—alien or naturalized—who shall be engaged in espionage in this country.

Authorizing the establishment of a censorship which can be extended to take in newspapers and other publications and the mails if necessary.

The question of financial assistance to the Allies and matters of that nature are expected to be held back at the outset.

GERMANY TO MAKE NEW PEACE OFFER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Amsterdam, March 28.—Indications that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German chancellor, will renew Germany's peace offer and perhaps enlarge upon it in a speech in the Reichstag tomorrow were strengthened by advices from Berlin today.

According to these dispatches German political circles expect the chancellor to treat upon the Russian revolution and the German-American situation.

Travelers from Germany say that a new German peace offer at this time could be regarded not only as a special bait to Russia but also as a sop to Socialists in Germany.

The German chancellor was scheduled to speak in the Prussian Diet today.

Germans Retire in Alsace.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 28.—German troops have begun the evacuation of Muehlenhausen and other parts of upper Alsace, says a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily News today. The telegram quotes advices from the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant from Zurich as the source of its information. It is stated that the German line is being moved back to the Rhine and that the civilian population is going to the Black Forest.

Service at Sleightsburg.

Pastor Myers of the Free Methodist Church, Kingston, will hold service in the chapel at Sleightsburg on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

COMMITTEES NOW ACTIVE ON BILLS

Censorship, Espionage and Rules of Conduct for Foreign Vessels Are Subjects Taken Up in Congress.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, March 28.—The house committees on ways and means and foreign affairs today began active work on legislation to be rushed through congress next week to meet the German emergency. The first committee began a survey of the ground to devise means for raising revenue to meet the enormous expense of putting the country on a war footing. Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee, with lawyers from the department of justice, began the task of formulating an act to punish espionage and all activities interfering with American foreign relations.

This espionage measure will be very comprehensive in its provisions. It will penalize many activities for which, under the general statutes, there is no provision at present. It especially will punish crimes which embarrass the government in its relations with other nations.

The measure which Chairman Flood and department of justice experts began to formulate today will provide:

First, punishment of all persons who attempt to obtain or disseminate information respecting national defense. This provision is comprehensive in its protection of all army, navy and coast defense secrets which could in any way be useful to an enemy.

Second, authority for the president in time of war or military necessity to designate as a "prohibited place" any locality concerning which information would be valuable to an enemy. This provision is likewise made to cover all government records and files relating to the country's defenses.

Third, punishment of all persons who make false statements to influence any foreign government in its dealings with the United States. Stringent means to prevent the issuance or use of false passports and the counterfeiting of the government seal also are included.

Fourth, strict regulation of the conduct of all foreign vessels in American ports. This provision authorizes the president, through the secretary of the treasury in time of war or threatened disturbance, to assume full jurisdiction over all craft in American waters. If necessary this includes the placing of armed guards on ships and the removal of the ships' officers and crews.

Fifth, protection for all American or foreign vessels engaged in foreign commerce against fire, bombs or the destruction of their machinery.

Terms of imprisonment ranging from two to twenty years and even life are under consideration as penalties with fines up to $10,000.

Every farmer and all members of the Ulster County Farm Bureau are urged to visit the train at some one of the stops scheduled.

GIRL AERO MECHANICS. AVIATION CONSTRUCTION TAKEN UP BY WOMEN.

Anticipating the time when the government may call on the women of this country to aid in war-time preparations, Miss Riene Davis and Miss Dorothy Webb, two of the principals in the tinsel Oliver Morosco Musical Comedy "Canary Cottage," are studying the construction of aeroplanes at the United Eastern Aviation plant in Brooklyn. The two spend practically every day when not at matinees at the factory, where they toil alongside the men who are building the aircraft. They are rapidly becoming adepts at the work, and it is only a question of time when they will be as proficient as any of the men who have been at the business for years.

RADICALS MENACE RUSSIAN PROGRESS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Petrograd, March 28.—Radicals have begun to interfere seriously with the reconstruction work of the provisional government.

Agitators, lacking the patience to await a general election and reformatory action by the national assembly, are plotting among themselves and are urging "death to living members of the old regime." Infamously posters are being put up in the streets of Petrograd and Moscow by night.

It is feared that this agitation may work an evil influence upon the army and perhaps the preparations to meet the expected German drive.

But the military side presents a much more optimistic picture. The spring thaw has set in unusually early this year which may prove a serious obstacle in the way of the German plans to "march on Petrograd."

The melting of snow is flooding rivers and turning highways into bogs. At some points, say dispatches from the front today, soldiers would sink in the mire in their shoulders if they tried to march and artillery would disappear entirely.

General Alexieff, chief of staff, and Acting Commander-in-Chief, is working night and day to bring the armies of new Russia up to the highest point of efficiency.

The food situation is improving very slowly. Rationing is being introduced in the larger cities.

SUPPER, PICTURES AND FOOT-SHAKING

Ralph Clearwater Invading Movie Field for Benefit of Lake Katrine Grange—"Central" in the Screen Glare.

Local Manager Ralph D. Clearwater, of the New York Telephone Company, has become a movie magnet, he being a full-fledged exhibitor of a highly interesting educational film called "Speeding the Spoken Word." The film aroused much enthusiasm at New Paltz Normal School, Dr. Sahler's school, and will be given at Stone Ridge tonight. It is not a business-getting film but solely for service improvement, containing much information attractively presented, for telephone patrons. Mr. Clearwater says that he has no intention of seeking to displace Douglas Fairbanks or any other stars in the screen world.

The film and accompanying lecture will be given at an oyster supper and dance to be given by the ladies of Lake Katrine Grange on Thursday evening, March 29. The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. Annie Kieffer, Mrs. Mary Brink and Mrs. Nettie Parish. They have exerted themselves to provide a program that should meet the expectations of the most exacting. The supper will be served from 5:30 with the following menu: Oysters on half shell, oyster stew, scalloped oysters, clam chowder, crackers, Grange salad, creamed potatoes, pickles, bread, butter, cake, strawberries, tea and coffee.

At 7 o'clock Mr. Clearwater will give his exhibition. Dancing will commence at 8:30.

VERDICT OF $2,000 IN THE CARTER CASE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Shortly after 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening the jury in the case of F. C. Carter against the village of Rifton, an action for negligence, returned a verdict of $2,000 for the plaintiff.

The action was brought to recover $10,000 for the death of Mr. Carter's daughter, Bessie Carter, who was killed when the automobile of Dr. Kemble backed off an unprotected bank into the Wallkill river in the village of Rifton in October, 1916. Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., appeared for Mr. Carter and Van Buren and Loughran for the village of Rifton. The case was concluded at 3:30 o'clock and the jury retired.

Another Automobile Case.

At the conclusion of the Carter case a jury was taken in the action brought by Charles U. Buley against Robert J. Schaffer. This is an action growing out of the accident which occurred at Stony Hollow on the turn just south of the viaduct over the Ulster & Delaware railroad on April 25, 1915. At the time Mr. Buley, who was driving a taxicab, was seriously injured and has since been unable to work.

The accident happened while Mr. Buley was proceeding up the hill toward West Hurley with a fare, Mrs. Elizabeth Alshemer, who now lives at Phenixia. Mrs. Alshemer had hired the taxicab at the West Shore station to go to Phenixia and when Buley arrived at the Stony Hollow turn he, Mrs. Alshemer and . . .

. . . who was seated with Mr. Buley in the front seat, claim that the Ford taxicab was on the right hand side of the road and as they turned a motorcycle driven by Mr. Schaffer and upon the rear a young woman, came speeding around the turn near the left hand side of the road and crashed into the left front wheel of the car, throwing it over the twenty-three foot embankment before it could be stopped. Mr. Schaffer "took a header," according to D. W. Ostrander, attorney for Mr. Schaffer.

At the point where the accident happened there is a steep hill and a sharp turn. The motorcycle was coming down the hill and the car proceeding up. Both people claim they were on the right hand side of the road and claim that the other machine was where it had no business to be.

Mr. Schaffer, who with the young lady had been on a tour of inspection around the reservoir and were returning home in the lower section of the county when the accident happened. The young lady who was riding with Schaffer could not be found by the defense and her whereabouts at present are not known.

Newton Fessenden appears for the plaintiff, Mr. Buley, and D. W. Ostrander of Clintondale for the defendant. The case will be continued today.

The regular panel of jurors was exhausted and several talesmen were summoned in order to complete the jury for the Buley-Schaffer case.

No further cases have been added to the day calendar.

FOUND "NO VERY BAD CONDITIONS"

Child Labor Surveyor's Report Received by a Number of Kingstonians Whose Support Will be Appreciated in Work.

A large number of people in Kingston have received a form letter from Secretary George A. Hall of the New York Child Labor Committee, 165 East 22d street, New York, telling of the results of a survey made by Miss Ethel E. Hanks, field secretary, of the administration of the child labor and compulsory education laws in Kingston. The fine cooperation of officials, citizens and others is acknowledged.

One paragraph states: "No very bad conditions were uncovered in Kingston, but much was found to show the need for a better enforcement, locally, of the law affecting child labor in stores and the statute affecting little newsboys. Steps are already under way, we are glad to learn, to remedy these matters."

The letter closes with a statement that a contribution toward this work will be much appreciated.

STOCKS ADVANCE AND FALL OFF

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 28.—A strong tone was shown in the leading issues in the first dealings on the stock exchange today but the gains were not maintained and recessions were in order after the first ten minutes. The sugar crop, however, continued in urgent demand. Cuba Cane Sugar advanced over a point to 47 1/2, American Beet Sugar 3/4 to 95 1/2, and American Sugar Refining 1 1/2 to 114 1/2. ARMED SHIPS ARRIVE SAFELY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 28.—Two more armed ships from America have reached England safely.

The Manchuria, of the American Transport Line, was the second armed American liner to reach England safely, according to cable advices here today. The Manchuria was the first armed American ship to leave the port of New York but she was passed in mid-Atlantic by the faster steamer St. Louis. She carried no passengers but had a cargo of 15,000 tons of freight. Captain Adrian Zeeder was in command.

The White Star Liner Adriatic has also reached an English port in safety, cable reports said today. The Adriatic sailed from America on the same day as the St. Louis. She carried 100 passengers and 15,000 tons of freight. Captain B. F. Hayes was in command.

FARMERS ARE HOPE OF ENGLAND

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 28.—The British farmers are being mobilized. For the time being the hand that guides the plow share directs the tide of the war.

Premier Lloyd-George has sent a personal letter to every farmer in the country pointing out that the next few weeks will decide the harvest, and urging that every available acre be sown.

"It is," says the premier, "in the farmers' power to defeat the German submarine, the last hope of desperate Prussianism."

Satisfaction was expressed today by members of the agricultural board, the food controller's staff and the food controller's staff over the hearty and patriotic response of both men and women to meet the agricultural needs of the country. Not only are the people eating less without murmuring, but they are striving with commendable zeal for the maximum production from the soil. Lawns, back yards and parks are being prepared for vegetable gardens.

All the motor tractors in the country are being commandeered for day and night plowing.

The Daily Mail, in discussing the situation, says that the need for economy in the consumption of food daily grows more urgent.

Chairman Bird of the Central Markets Committee calls the situation serious and adds:

"Between now and June a crisis may arise."

FRENCH THREATEN GERMAN SALIENT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 28.—The German salient in front of Laon and La Fere, on the western battlefield, has crumbled beneath the blows of the French. Farther north, between St. Quentin and Cambrai, the Germans have been compelled to give more ground before the rushes of the British and are now standing in their main positions defending the Cambrai-St. Quentin railway.

Storms of wind and rain, thick blankets of fog and swamps of mud that have taken the place of highways, have proved futile reinforcements to the Germans for they have failed to check the onrush of the British and French soldiers.

The turning movement of General Nivelle, along the southern end of this fighting front, is making steady progress despite the resistance of the Germans north of Aisne. Now that Coucy forest has fallen into their hands the French are attacking St. Gobain forest. The dense patch of woodland has been strongly fortified by the Germans. Lying on elevated ground it forms one of the most powerful defenses of Laon.

South of the St. Gobain forest the French are advancing upon the German stronghold of Anzy, which lies on the Laon-Soissons railroad. There has been vigorous night fighting and cannonading around Anzy, especially in the sectors of Margival and Vregny and Vailly.

The capture of Equancourt, Longueval and Liermont by General Haig's men has greatly strengthened the British front. All had been fortified by the Germans and were strongly defended with picked men and machine gun platoons, but they fell before the savage assaults of the British.

British and French engineers, following upon the heels of the armies, are working wonders in the building of new highways, railroads and bridges. Despite the ruthless destruction carried out systematically by the Germans and the bad weather, the Anglo-French pioneers keep up communication with the rear to that a steady stream of food, medical supplies, ammunition and guns is ever going forward. German prisoners say that the order for the devastation of the country came from von Hindenburg himself.

FLYING BULLETS HIT YOUNG BOY

"Villa's Capture" at Y. M. C. A.

Circus More Realistic than Expected—Real Bullets Instead of Blanks—Deyvall Howard, Jr., did Not Know he was Shot.

Amid a blaze of fire Villa was captured at the Y. M. C. A. circus on Tuesday night in the association gymnasium, and in the noise Deyvall Howard, Jr., son of Mr. Howard employed in McBride's drug store found his finger bleeding as Villa was dragged from the arena. Some of the blanks used by the "soldiers" in capturing the bandit contained buckshot, and young Howard, who was a spectator, was hit by the flying bullets which inflicted several flesh wounds.

The next to the last act on the big bill at the indoor circus was "Capture of Villa by Company X" and the boy impersonating Villa stalked onto the floor of the gym and picked up a young "girl" and carried her off in his arms. The members of Company X then appeared on the scene and as they spied Villa in the far corner of the gym they dropped to the floor and opened fire. All the guns were supposed to be loaded with blanks, but evidently some of the "blanks" had real bullets instead of a wad of paper.

The large audience had no idea that amid the blaze of fire that a spectator had been shot, and it is said that young Howard did not know he was shot himself but after the excitement of the "capture of Villa," had died down and the stage was set for the last act he found his finger bleeding. It was thought he had got too close to a motorcycle used in the display and had caught his finger. He was taken to McBride's drug store where his father dressed the wound and found a small buckshot.

Later it was discovered that several buckshot had pierced the boy's leg and this morning he was taken to the office of Dr. E. E. Norwood where an X-ray photograph was taken and it was found that he had several flesh wounds in his legs. It was expected that the bullets would be dug out later in the day. The wounds are not serious.

How the guns used came to contain bullets instead of blanks is not known as only blanks were supposed to be used. Those acquainted with ammunition say that the bullets containing buckshot are similar to the blanks and can hardly be told apart. This undoubtedly explains how the mistake was made.

GIRL AERO MECHANICS. AVIATION CONSTRUCTION TAKEN UP BY WOMEN.

Anticipating the time when the government may call on the women of this country to aid in war-time preparations, Miss Rene Davis and Miss Dorothy Webb, two of the principals in the United Eastern Aviation Musical Comedy "Canary Cottage," are studying the construction of aeroplanes at the United Eastern Aviation plant in Brooklyn. The two spend practically every day when not at business at the factory, where they toil alongside the men who are building the aircraft. They are rapidly becoming adepts at the work, and it is only a question of time when they will be as proficient as any of the men who have been at the business for years.

RADICALS MENACE RUSSIAN PROGRESS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Petrograd, March 28. Radicals have begun to interfere seriously with the reconstruction work of the provisional government.

Agitators, lacking the audacity to await a general election and reformatory action by the national assembly are plotting among themselves and are urging "death to living members of the old regime." Indemnity posters are being put up in the streets of Petrograd and Moscow by night.

It is feared that this agitation may work an evil influence upon the army and perhaps the preparations to meet the expected German drive.

much more optimistic picture. The spring thaw has set in unusually early this year which may prove a serious obstacle in the way of the German plans to "march on Petrograd." The melting of snow is flooding rivers and turning highways into bogs. At some points, say soldiers coming from the front today, soldiers could sink in the mire to their shoulders if they tried to march and artillery would disappear entirely.

General Alexeev, chief of staff, and Acting Commander-in-chief, is working night and day to bring the armies of new Russia up to the highest point of efficiency.

The food situation is improving very slowly. Rationing is being introduced in the larger cities.

SUPPER, PICTURES AND FOOT-SHAKING

Italian Clearwater Invading Movie Field for Benefit of Lake Katrine Grange—"Central" in the Screen Glare.

Local Manager Ralph D. Clearwater, of the New York Telephone Company, has become a movie man, he being a full-fledged exhibitor of a highly interesting educational film called "Spending the Spoken Word." It is not a business-getting film but solely for service improvement, containing much information attractively presented, for telephone patrons. Mr. Clearwater says that he has no intention of seeking to displace Douglas Fairbanks or any other stars in the screen world.

The film and accompanying lecture will be given at an oyster supper and dance to be given by the ladies of Lake Katrine Grange on Thursday evening, March 29. The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. Annie Kieffer, Mrs. Mary Brick and Mrs. Nettie Parish. VERDICT OF $2,000 IN THE CARTER CASE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Shortly after 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening the jury in the case of F. C. Carter against the village of Rifton, an action for negligence, returned a verdict of $2,000 for the plaintiff.

The action was brought to recover $10,000 for the death of Mr. Carter's daughter Bessie Carter, who was killed when the automobile of Dr. Fennell backed off an unprotected bank into the Wallkill river in the village of Rifton in October, 1916. Judge William D. Brimmer, Jr., presided for Mr. Carter and Van Duren and Loughran for the village of Rifton. The case was concluded at 3:30 o'clock and the jury retired.

At the conclusion of the Carter case a jury was taken in the action brought by Charles U. Buley against Robert J. Schaffer. This is an action growing out of the accident which occurred at Stony Hollow on the turn just south of the viaduct over the Ulster & Delaware railroad on April 25, 1915. At the time Mr. Buley, who was driving a taxicab, was seriously injured and has since been unable to work.

The accident happened while Mr. Buley was proceeding up the hill toward West Hulet with a fare, Mrs. Elizabeth Alshimer, who now lives at Phoenixia. Mrs. Alshimer had hired the taxicab at the West Shore station to go to Phoenixia and when Buley arrived at the Stony Hollow turn he, Mrs. Alshimer and Mr. Buley in the front seat, claim that the Ford taxicab was on the right hand side of the road and as they made the turn a motorcycle driven by Mr. Schaffer and upon the rear a young woman, came speeding around the turn near the left hand side of the road and crashed into the left front wheel of the car throwing it over the twenty-three foot embankment before it could be stopped. Mr. Schaffer took a header, according to D. W. Ostrander, attorney for Mr. Schaffer.

At the point where the accident happened there is a steep hill and a sharp turn. The motorcycle was coming down the hill and the car proceeding up. Both people claim they were on the right hand side of the road and claim that the other machine was where it had no business to be.

Mr. Schaffer, who with the young lady had been on a tour of inspection around the reservoir and were returning home in the lower section of the country when the accident happened. The young lady who was riding with Schaffer could not be found by the defense and her whereabouts at present are not known.

Newton Foxenden appears for the plaintiff, Mr. Buley, and D. W. Ostrander of Clintonville for the defendant. The case will be continued today.

The regular panel of jurors was exhausted and several talesmen were summoned in order to complete the jury for the Buley-Schaffer case.

No further cases have been added to the day calendar.

FOUND "NO VERY BAD CONDITIONS"

Child Labor Surveyor's Report Received by a Number of Kingstonians Whose Support Will be Appreciated in Work.

A large number of people in Kingston have received a form letter from Secretary George A. Hall of the New York Child Labor Committee, 115 East 22d street, New York, telling of the results of a survey made by Mrs. Ethel E. Hanks, field secretary of the administration of the child labor and compulsory education laws in Kingston. The fine cooperation of officials, citizens and others is acknowledged.

One paragraph states: "No very bad conditions were uncovered in Kingston but much was found to show the need for a better enforcement locally, of the law affecting child labor in stores and the statute affecting little newsboys. Steps are already under way, we are glad to learn, to remedy these matters."

The letter closes with a statement that a contribution toward this work will be much appreciated.

ARMED SHIPS ARRIVE SAFELY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, March 28.—Two more armed ships from America have reached England safely.

The Manchuria of the American Transport Line was the second armed American liner to reach England safely, according to cable advices here today. The Manchuria was the first armed American ship to leave the port of New York but she was passed in mid-Atlantic by the faster steamer St. Louis. She carried 150 passengers but had a cargo of 15,000 tons of freight. Captain Adrian Zeeber was in command.

The White Star Liner Adriatic has also reached an English port in safety, cable reports said today. The Adriatic sailed from America on the same day as the St. Louis. She carried 100 passengers and 15,000 tons of freight. Captain B. F. Hayes was in command.

FARMERS ARE HOPE OF ENGLAND

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 28.—The British farmers are being mobilized. For the time being the hand that guides the plow share directs the tide of the war.

Premier Lloyd-George has sent a personal letter to every farmer in the country pointing out that the next few weeks will decide the harvest, and urging that every available acre be sown.

"It is," says the premier, "in the farmers' power to defeat the German submarine the last hope of desperate Prussianism."

Satisfaction was expressed today by members of the agricultural board, the food production department and the food controller's staff over the hearty and patriotic response of both men and women to meet the agricultural needs of the country. Not only are the people eating less without murmuring, but they are striving with commendable zeal for the maximum production from the soil. Lawns, back yards and parks are being prepared for vegetable gardens.

All the motor tractors in the country are being commandeered for day and night plowing.

The Daily Mail, in discussing the situation, says that the need for economy in the consumption of food daily grows more urgent.

Chairman Bird of the Central Markets Committee calls the situation serious and adds:

"Between now and June a crisis may arise."

FRENCH THREATEN GERMAN SALIENT

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 28.—The German salient in front of Laon and La Fere, on the western battlefield, has crumbled beneath the blows of the French. Farther north, between St. Quentin and Cambray, the Germans have been compelled to give more ground before the rushes of the British and are now standing in their main positions defending the Cambrai-St. Quentin railway.

Storms of wind and rain, thick blankets of fog and swamps of mud that have taken the place of highways, have proved futile reinforcements to the Germans for they have failed to check the onrush of the British and French soldiers.

The turning movement of General Nivelle, along the southern end of this fighting front, is making steady progress despite the resistance of the Germans north of Aisne. Now that Courcy forest has fallen into their hands, the French are attacking St. Gobain forest.

Woodland has been strongly fortified by the Germans. Lying on elevated ground it forms one of the most powerful defenses of Laon.

South of the St. Gobain forest the French are advancing upon the German stronghold of Anzy, which lies on the Laon-Soissons railroad. There has been vigorous night fighting and cannonading around Anzy, especially in the sectors of Margival and Vregny and Vailly.

The capture of Equancourt. Long-gauges and Liermont by General Haig's men has greatly strengthened the British front. All had been fortified by the Germans and were strongly defended with picked men and machine gun platoons, but they fell before the savage assaults of the British.

British and French engineers, following upon the heels of the armies, are working wonders in the building of new highways, railroads and bridges. Despite the ruthless destruction carried out systematically by the Germans and the bad weather, the Anglo-French pioneers keep up communication with the rear so that a steady stream of food, medical supplies, ammunition and guns is ever going forward. German prisoners say that the order for the devastation of the country came from von Hindenburg himself.

FLYING BULLETS HIT YOUNG BOY

"Villa's Capture" at Y. M. C. A. Circus More Realistic than Expected—Real Bullets Instead of Blanks—Devall Howard, Jr., did Not Know he was Shot.

Amid a blaze of fire Villa was captured at the Y. M. C. A. circus on Tuesday night in the association gymnasium, and in the malice Devall Howard, Jr., son of Mr. Howard employed in McBride's drug store found his finger bleeding as Villa was dragged from the arena. Some of the blanks used by the "soldiers" in capturing the bandit contained buckshot, and young Howard who was a spectator was hit by the flying bullets which inflicted several flesh wounds.

The next to the last act on the big bill at the indoor circus was "Capture of Villa by Company X" and the boy impersonating Villa stalked onto the floor of the gym and picked up a young "girl" and carried her off in his arms. The members of Company X then appeared on the scene and as they spied Villa in the far corner of the gym they dropped to the floor and opened fire. All the guns were supposed to be loaded with blanks, but evidently some of the "blanks" had real bullets instead of a wad of paper.

The large audience had no idea that amid the blaze of fire that a spectator had been shot, and it is said that young Howard did not know he was shot himself but after the excitement of the "capture of Villa," had died down and the stage was set for the last act he found his finger bleeding. It was thought he had got too close to a motorcycle used in the display and had caught his finger. He was taken to McBride's drug store where his father dressed the wound and found a small buckshot.

Later it was discovered that several buckshots had pierced the boy's leg and that the wound was taken to the office of Dr. E. E. Norwood where an X-ray photograph was taken and it was found that he had several flesh wounds in his legs. It was expected that the bullets would be dug out later in the day. The wounds are not serious.

How the guns used came to contain bullets instead of blanks is not known as only blanks were supposed to be used. Those acquainted with ammunition say that the bullets containing buckshot are similar to the blanks and can hardly be told apart. This undoubtedly explains how the mistake was made.

PETER BARMANN TELEPHONE 66
KINGSTON, N. Y.

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"I see by the newspapers," said the friend to the street corner politician, "that there is some talk of arbitration between the countries at war."

"What do you mean?" queried the politician.

"Why, some neutral country is willing to be arbitrator," explained the friend, adding, "what does arbitrate mean anyhow?"

"Just suppose," explained the politician, "that you were walking along the street, and another man came up and without warning poked you one in the jaw."

"I'd poke him back," interrupted the friend spiritedly.

"And just then another man butted in," continued the politician, "and said, here, you fellows don't want to fight; let's settle the matter."

"And that is what you call arbitration," said the friend, disgusted.

"The way I understand it," rejoined the politician, "I would rather get my poke in first and then settle it," retorted the friend.

"Did you read in the paper the other day where the landlords are forming a protective association?" said the politician, changing the subject.

"Yes, I did," replied the friend, "but it doesn't interest me."

"How is that?" asked the politician.

"I just bought a house and expect to occupy it," replied the friend.

"The more I think of it," continued the politician, "it strikes me it might not be a bad idea for the tenants to get together and strike."

"Strike, for what?" asked the friend.

"For lower rents," rejoined the politician with a smile.

"Why, are the rents high?" asked the friend surprised.

"In some parts of the city," replied the politician.

"How is that?" asked the friend.

"More like asking me how can people pay the rent?" replied the politician.

"Probably high taxes make high rents," suggested the friend.

"That is not helping out a stranger looking for a house in a suitable neighborhood," said the politician.

"Well, if you want to live in a decent neighborhood you must expect to pay the rents asked," replied the friend.

"That's no reason for jacking them up so high though," argued the politician.

"What is needed in this town," continued the politician, "is a decent neighborhood with reasonable rents."

"Where are you going to get it?" asked the friend.

"That's a problem I have not solved yet," said the politician, "but still I think it would not be a bad idea if the Chamber of Commerce should list houses for rent and the amount asked so that strangers would not have to hunt all over, but would find the information sought without much trouble."

"That's not so bad an idea at that," said the friend.

"If I remember right," said the politician, "there was an effort made at one time to do just that."

"Did it work out?" asked the friend.

"Now you got me," replied the politician.

"Why don't you buy a house?" asked the friend following a pause.

"I was not speaking in my own behalf," retorted the politician.

"I thought you were," replied the friend.

"No," said the politician, "a stranger in town struck me about finding rooms and I told him I was stumped, but all he need do would be to read the cent a word ads in The Freeman."

"Did he," asked the friend.

"He must have," replied the politician, "for I met him later and he said he had found rooms."

"I suppose the reason some people are not buying houses," commented the friend, "is because they are afraid of war."

"What has that got to do with it?" asked the politician.

"Why, if we declare war," explained the friend, "you can't tell when a submarine might come up the Hudson and shell the house you bought."

"Yes, and the world might come to an end over night too," said the politician, sarcastically.

"What would happen if we declared war?" asked the friend.

"That's hard to answer," confessed the politician. "But to my mind

it would be more of a naval affair than anything.

"How do you figure that out?" asked the friend.

"The German fleet is bottled up," explained the politician, "and the only boats that have any leeway at all are the submarines and they could not damage us much."

"Why not?" argued the friend.

"They would not be given a chance," said the politician, "for as quick as they appeared off our shores they would be destroyed."

"But our navy is not capable of combating them," argued the friend.

"Forget it!" advised the politician.

MAKING IT PLAIN

The Pure Food and Drug Laws aim to protect the public by preventing mis-statements on the labels of preparations but some people continue to accept "extracts" of cod livers thinking they will get the benefits of an emulsion of cod liver oil.

The difference is very great. An "emulsion" contains real cod liver oil, which has had the hearty endorsement of the medical profession for many years, while an "extract" is a product which contains no oil and is highly alcoholic.

Scott's Emulsion guarantees the highest grade of real Norwegian cod liver oil, skillfully blended with glycerine and hypophosphites. Scott's is free from the false stimulation of alcohol and is endorsed by good physicians everywhere.

USE OF LEFT-OVERS.

It is false economy to use expensive materials in combination with leftovers, thus preparing a dish which will be more expensive than one made from fresh materials.

It would be better to give such food to the birds and more economical. The best economy is that which arranges the meals so that there will be no serious leaks in left-overs. No scrap of meat need be wasted, for it may be minced and served in dozens of forms.

Any left-over cereal if in small amount may be stirred into the gems or muffin mixture, always to the advantage of the hot bread, or if a larger portion is left it is a most tasty breakfast dish if fried crisp and brown in a little hot fat. A little cereal may be mixed with egg, sugar and flavoring and baked in small ramekins and served with a sauce of fruit or cream, for a dessert. Such a dessert may be safely given to the children.

Stuffed Apples.—With a little roast duck or goose left from dinner, in an amount too small to use otherwise, mince fine, add some of the stuffing if there is not enough meat, and fill the centers of cored tart apples with this mixture, put a bit of butter on top, add just enough water to keep them from burning when first put into the oven; bake until the apples are soft, and serve each on a round of fried bread or cornmeal mush and serve with currant jelly. Such a dish will prove sustaining enough for the main dish at luncheon.

A cold fried egg or a hard-boiled one, or even a poached egg should never be put into the garbage, for it may be chopped and added to any salad or to a rich white sauce and served on buttered toast; or to a white sauce to serve with fish, adding also a finely chopped sour pickle. Or a delicious sandwich may be made by mincing the egg and adding a pinch of mustard, salt and pepper; spread on buttered bread and serve with a cupful of cocoa. This will make a satisfying luncheon.

Guarding Your Telephone Service

THE telephone must keep in fighting trim. It must be ready to go into action for you night or day, year in and year out.

When roads are blocked, when trains are stalled, when storms sweep down—the highways of speech must be kept clear.

Even on days that are clear and peaceful your telephone is guarded against any disturbance that might interrupt or delay your service.

WIRE CHIEF on guard in the tele-central office has every telephone line under his watchful eye. He is the guardian of the wires—the watchman whose special duty it is to see that the system is ready to respond whenever you call upon it.

You can help to protect your service by guarding the telephone instrument and lines against damage.

ABOUT EASTER EGGS.

Grandmother's Way of Dyeing Them Beautiful Hues.

Aniline dyes and with them the absolutely harmless Easter egg pigments are, we are told, soaring higher as to price and falling short as to quality with every day. By taking a bit more trouble, however, the mother who objects to spending more money for an inferior article than it is worth may turn out eggs quite as attractive as the costly decorated ones by dyeing them as our grandmothers used to do them.

Grandma had but two dyes at her command, from which she evolved many shades by commingling and diluting the "tea" which she procured by steeping logwood and Pernambuco wood. She produced charming and artistic effects by laying tinsel leaflets, blades of grass, red onion peel, cut in stars and crescents or just applied in a sort of hilt and miss manner upon the egg and winding narrow white tape round and round the egg to keep the leaves and peels in place. An egg so swaddled, if boiled for half an hour in strong tea or coffee or even in plain water, will come out a veritable little thing of beauty. Just wrapping an egg in this way in onion skins or young and tender spinach leaves and boiling for an hour will result in lovely green or red "marbled" eggs.

Grandma's finest results, however, were obtained by treating the eggs previously boiled stone hard as follows: With a wooden meat skewer dipped in melted wax (grandma took a candle and melted it down, but paraffin is far better), she drew upon the eggshell in heavy lines an initial, monogram, chick or bunny and submerged the eggs so decorated for twenty-four hours in strong vinegar, the whiter the better, after which she thoroughly rinsed them in water not too hot. The vinegar eats away the lime surface of the egg, leaving the paraffin lines standing out in high relief. Eggs so treated look like old ivory carvings and are truly artistic.

For Rest Robes.

Negligees have taken up the Paisley vogue, and one can now find Paisley printed chiffon borders or silk medallions in the popular Indian designs. Challis in printed Paisley patterns is being largely used for negligees and rest robes. Soutache braid in frocks and suits is being applied in Paisley patterns. If not in the accepted Paisley colorings. Some suits have stencil designs outlined with soutache braid, recalling the familiar patterns of the orient.

New Veil of the Season.

One of the new veils is made of large meshed net with a heavy design in silver of gold thread over half the width of the net. The veil is worn over the hat with the designs at the top, so that it seems to form a trimming to the hat. The plain mesh is over the face. This sort of veil is especially attractive with a simple hat of the sort worn for motoring, as it adds much to the hat's appearance.

Popularity of Stripes.

Stripes are going to be even more popular than ever. But they are different from the stripes of other days for they are of many colors. In Paris there is a vogue for a cluster stripe made up of the various colors found in the flags of the allies.

The Chinese.

Marquis O'Ruma says: "Individuality the Chinese are honest and efficient; but collectively they are not only unable to organize with skill, but there are mysterious leaks of funds and shifting of responsibilities."

FISKE NOT ASSIGNED TO ACTIVE SERVICE.

Some comment is being caused in army and navy circles by the failure of the War Department to assign Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, retired, to active service in view of the probability of war. The Navy Department has been busy assigning officers from the retired list to active service, but Admiral Fiske, who is noted the world over as a distinguished expert upon naval warfare, has not yet been assigned.

Bait For Fishing.

A fish hasn't a nose, but it can smell. Recent experiments have proved this. Anglers have laid so much stress on the need of exciting a fish's interest by the look of food that the effect of scent has been overlooked. A shark will bite at a hook containing a piece of fat pork, although the pork does not look like any kind of fish that swims in the sea.

It may be heresy in angling to suggest that a "fly" should smell like a fly. These scientific experiments show how large a part smell plays in the food pursuit of fish. Bait, such as small crabs, was found and eaten by the fishes two or three times as rapidly when the shells were broken. Bait placed inside a gauze bag was smelled within three minutes of being lowered in the water, and almost at the same time all the fishes began nibbling at the bag. When cotton was stuffed into its so called "nostrils" the doctish would seldom observe the food that came near them.—Chicago Herald.

Keeping Late Hours.

"Life on the farm is not what it used to be."
"How is that?"
"When a farmer motors into town every night to attend a theater you can't expect him to get up at day-break."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Typewriter Knowledge.

"Look at this letter," said the exasperated man to his blond typewriter. "Every word in it that should have two 'p's' you've only put one."
"Well, sir," said the girl timidly, "there's only one 'p' on the keyboard."

American Mineral Oil

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Use of Mineral Oil.

Dr. Le Tanneur contributes to the Paris Medical some practical points in the use of mineral oil in constipation. The oil, he says, is in no way digested or even modified by the juices of the stomach and intestines. It acts as a lubricant and nothing else, though it tends to heal abrasions of the intestinal wall caused by rough particles of food.

The New York Medical Journal says mineral oil should be taken either before breakfast or after dinner, two tablespoonfuls being a dose. Its use should be continued every day for at least a fortnight, when the bowels will continue to work naturally without it, for the mineral oil is in no sense a cathartic, but it will cure constipation.—Kingston Daily Freeman, February 17, 1917.

PEEKING AT THE FUTURE

WE have seen the candle flick from the glare of the lamp, the lamp give way to gas and gaslight make room for electricity.

Yet, these are but small evidences of man's eternal reach for the perfect.

So, who shall say that we will not soon see every form of injurious drink dejection succumb to a sane and sensible use of pure brews like our

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"I see by the newspapers," said the friend in the street corner politician, "that there is some talk of arbitration between the countries at war."

"What do you mean?" queried the politician.

"Why, some neutral country is going to be arbitrator," explained the friend, adding, "what does arbitration mean anyhow?"

"Just suppose," explained the politician, "that you were walking along the street, and another man came up and without warning poked you one in the jaw."

"I'd poke him back," interrupted the friend.

"And just then another man butted in," continued the politician, "and said, here, you fellows don't want to fight; let's settle the matter."

"And that is what you call arbitration," said the friend, disgusted.

"The way I understand it," rejoined the politician.

"I would rather get my poke in first and then settle it," retorted the friend.

"Did you read in the paper the other day where the landlords are forming a protective association?" asked the politician, changing the subject.

"Yes, I did," replied the friend, "but it doesn't interest me."

"How is that?" asked the politician.

"I just bought a house and expect to occupy it," replied the friend.

"The more I think of it," continued the politician, "it strikes me it might not be a bad idea for the tenants to form a protective association."

"Strikes for what?" asked the friend.

"For lower rents," replied the politician with a smile.

"Why, are the rents high?" asked the friend.

"In some parts of the city," replied the politician.

"How is that?" asked the friend.

"More like asking me how can people pay the rent?" replied the politician.

"Probably high taxes make high rents," suggested the friend.

"That is not helping out a stranger looking for a house in a salubrious neighborhood," said the politician.

"Well, if you want to live in a decent neighborhood you must expect to pay the rents asked," replied the friend.

"That's no reason for jacking them up so high though," argued the politician.

"What is needed in this town," continued the politician, "is a decent neighborhood with reasonable rents."

"Where are you going to get it?" asked the friend.

"That's a problem I have not solved yet," said the politician, "but still I think it would not be a bad idea if the Chamber of Commerce should hire houses for rent and the amount asked so that strangers would not have to hunt all over, but could find the information sought without much trouble."

"That's not an idea at all," said the friend.

"If I remember right," said the politician, "there was an effort made at one time to do just that."

"Did it work out?" asked the friend.

"Now you ask me," replied the politician.

"Why don't you buy a house?" asked the friend following a pause.

"I was not speaking in my own behalf," retorted the politician.

"I thought you were," replied the friend.

"No," said the politician, "a stranger in town struck me about finding rooms and I told him I was stumped, but all he need do would be to read the rent word ads in the Freeman."

"Did he?" asked the friend.

"He must have," replied the politician, "for I met him later and he said he had found rooms."

It would be more of a naval affair than anything.

"How do you figure that out?" asked the friend.

"The German fleet is bottled up," explained the politician, "and the only boats that have any way out at all are the submarines, and they could not damage us much."

"Why not?" argued the friend.

"They would not be given a chance," said the politician, "for as quick as they appeared off our shores they would be destroyed."

"But our navy is not capable of combating them," argued the friend.

"Forget it," advised the politician.

"What do you mean?" queried the friend.

"Why, some neutral country is going to be arbitrator," explained the friend, adding, "what does arbitration mean anyhow?"

"Just suppose," explained the politician, "that you were walking along the street, and another man came up and without warning poked you one in the jaw."

MAKING IT PLAIN

The Pure Food and Drug Laws aim to protect the public by preventing mis-statements on the labels of preparations but some people continue to accept "extracts" of cod liver thinking they will get the benefits of an emulsion of cod liver oil.

The difference is very great. An "emulsion" contains real cod liver oil, which has had the heavy endorsement of the medical profession for many years, while an "extract" is a product which contains no oil and is highly alcoholic.

Scott's Emulsion guarantees the highest grade of real Norwegian cod liver oil, skillfully blended with glycerine and hypophosphites. Scott's is free from the false stimulation of alcohol and is endorsed by good physicians everywhere.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

We may build more splendid habitations. Fill our rooms with paintings and with sculptures. But we cannot buy with gold the old associations.

USE OF LEFT-OVERS.

It is false economy to use expensive materials in combination with left-overs, thus preparing a dish which will be more expensive than one made from fresh materials.

It would be better to give such food to the birds and more economical. The best economy is that which arranges the meals so that there will be no serious leaks in left-overs. No scrap of meat need be wasted, for it may be minced and served in dozens of forms.

Any left-over cereal if in small amount may be stirred into the gum or mullin mixture, always to the advantage of the hot bread, or if a large portion is left it is a most tasty breakfast dish if fried crisp and brown in a little hot fat.

A little cereal may be mixed with egg, sugar and flavoring and baked in small ramekins and served with a sauce of fruit or cream, for a dessert. Such a dessert may be safely given to the children.

Stuffed Apples.—With a little roast duck or goose left from dinner, in an amount too small to use otherwise, mince fine, add some of the stuffing if there is not enough meat, and fill the centers of core'd tart apples with this mixture, put a bit of butter on top, add just enough water to keep them from burning when first put into the oven; bake until the apples are soft, and serve each on a round of fried bread or cornmeal mush and serve with currant jelly. Such a dish will prove sustaining enough for the main dish at luncheon.

A cold fried egg or a hard-boiled one, or even a poached egg should never be put into the garbage, for it may be chopped and added to any salad or to a rich white sauce and served on buttered toast; or to a white sauce to serve with fish, adding also a finely chopped sour pickle. Or a delicious sandwich may be made by mincing the egg and adding a pinch of mustard, salt and pepper; spread on buttered bread and serve with a cupful of cocoa. This will make a satisfying luncheon.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, March 27.—The meeting held at Edgebrook Club House Monday afternoon in the interest of the Red Cross work had a large attendance. Committees were present from every organization in town. Mrs. O. B. Sarre of Yama Inn presided, and gave a most interesting address. It was decided to make it a town affair, to be known as the Warning Red Cross organization. H. W. Coons spoke in the interest of all the organizations of men. After due preliminaries Mrs. Sarre was elected president and Mrs. Helen B. Holman vice-president, and committees were appointed to perfect organization. Through Mrs. Sarre's kind interest a young Scotch nurse, who has been an organizer of Red Cross Societies, and is resting from her work, has offered to assist and give this organization the benefit of her experience. A meeting, which everyone in the town is invited to attend, will be held in the rooms over the grocery of George J. Hoornbeek on Canal street Wednesday afternoon. At this time all will be given an opportunity to join in the Red Cross work. Ellenville is alive to the great work. Everybody has it on their heart, and will be ready to do all within their power to help the good work.

The Rev. W. H. Moser, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered a very able sermon at the morning service on Sunday. Dr. Moser selected his text from Hebrews 2nd chapter, 14-15 verses, but the theme especially enlarged upon was "The Bitter Heart." At the Epworth League service at 6:45 the meeting was in charge of Mrs. E. E. Count, and the subject was "South America." The Rev. George H. Smith delivered the sermon at the evening service. The theme was, "God's Gifts to All." There were large congregations at both morning and evening service, and a good attendance at the young people's meeting.

Mrs. John Van Horn received a paper last week from her brother, Frank L. Clark, of Sioux City, Kansas, containing a splendid likeness of the Rev. E. E. Count, D. D., of Ellenville and a sketch of his life and work. Dr. Count was the speaker at a large missionary conference held there at that time.

A general "Circle" of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will be held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. The following ladies will entertain: Miss Mary Prout, Mrs. I. W. Millard, Mrs. Harry R. Carver, Mrs. Herbert Thysen and Mrs. Howard B. Dutcher.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the John R. Hunt Corporation will be held at the office of the company on April 2nd at 10 o'clock a. m. Directors are to be elected.

The Rev. John J. Bott, rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit, will preach at St. John's Episcopal Church this evening.

Charles H. Post, well-known insurance man of New York, has been spending some days in town, a guest at the Mitchell House.

Eugene G. Bishop of the post office force spent Sunday with friends at Emporium, Pa.

Miss Virginia Denman of Maple avenue has accepted a position in the schools at Hagerstown, Maryland.

The Mitchell House garage is undergoing extensive repairs. It will be greatly improved by the addition of display windows on the western side.

REV. DR. BAYLIS EXONERATED.

Charge of Misappropriating Funds for Allies is Dismissed.

The Rev. Dr. Charles T. Baylis, director general of the Allies Hospitals Relief Commission, who was indicted on a charge of having misappropriated the funds of the organization last fall, was exonerated Tuesday when Judge Wadhams in general sessions, on the motion of Assistant District Attorney John Minton, discharged the minister's bail bond of $2,500. This is the usual preliminary step in the quashing of an indictment.

Mr. Minton said a committee of members of the commission, composed of Colonel William C. Beecher, Dr. Albert Brundage, H. H. Westinghouse, the Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, and the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, had advised him that an expert accountant had accounted for every dollar collected by Dr. Baylis. Daniel Guggenheim, from whom it was alleged Dr. Baylis collected $100 through misrepresentation, also asked that the proceedings be dropped.

Dr. Baylis is known to many persons in this city, he having spent some time here in connection with the Wemlinger Steel Piling Company's business.

Always consult an architect

—he will save you much on materials and equipment

During these months of fluctuations in and scarcity of certain building materials, it is particularly important to get the help of an experienced architect.

As a "clearing house" of building experiences, and knowing thoroughly the markets and most practical equipment available, the architect will get the results you seek at least outlay!

He will save you in these times more money than ever before.

The far-sighted architect also studies the trend of building laws and future needs of house-keeping or business. He arranges the building so that it shall suit most other folks in case you later rent or sell.

An instance of his money-saving judgment—

The architect will more than earn his fee by making the radiator heating outfit cost you less than old fashioned heating devices by omitting from the plans the extra chimneys, needless mantels, useless inner doors, clumsy double window sash, weather strips, storm doors, etc. He will show you how to place your radiators and pipings to do 100% heating work. He knows how to measure the volume of heat required, and will select the special pattern of IDEAL Boiler yielding utmost heat from cheapest fuel in your locality—whether mine-run soft coal, pea coal, coke, lignites, gas, oil, etc. No need to burn expensive grades of fuel!

He knows the importance of comfort, up-keep, and depreciation

There are buildings in every county of the United States which are heated by IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. The smallest cottage as well as the largest sky-scraper, enjoys this economical, labor-saving, cleanly warmth. The architect does not have to go far to place before you a hundred testimonials as to the durability and wonderful heating service that an IDEAL outfit gives. So simple a child can run one. The outfits will last a century or so—no depreciation.

No one accepting such large responsibilities charges so little as does the architect—for his is largely a profession of public service. You should therefore take advantage of his "clearing house" of ideas and experiences by consulting him, and let him select the pattern and size of IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiators that will exactly fit your building needs.

Ask for catalog "IDEAL Heating."

POLICE BOARD TO APPOINT 100 COPS

At Special Session a Committee Was Appointed to Compile List of 100 Call Men for Emergency Purposes—Target Practice for Cops—Ambulance Service.

At a special meeting of the police board held on Tuesday evening a committee was appointed to compile a list of one hundred call men, who will serve as special policemen in case of emergencies. The committee will visit the local business houses to secure permission to select from their employees men suitable to serve on this special force. All men selected must fulfill the requirements as to physical condition and age as though they were members of the regular force.

This special force will be essentially call men and subject to call for special duty at any time, and only men whose employers will allow them to leave their work when called will be chosen. The list of call men will not be published, and they will only be called out when conditions actually warrant it to control an outbreak of any sort and to guard city property.

At the present time the police board is able to fully equip fifty men and other necessary equipment will be secured.

Target Practice.

The necessity for target practice for members of the police force was also discussed and the board decided to buy an instrument to teach the force how to aim and fire. This instrument is known as the Hollifield target practice rod indicator or dotter, and is recommended by experts in the regular army.

At the present time there are not many men on the force who are what could be called good shots, and to overcome this defect the board decided to buy the instrument named. It will be installed at police headquarters and each member will be required to practice with it.

The Ambulance Question.

For several years the board has considered the advisability of discontinuing the ambulance service maintained by the police department. The revenue from the service is slight, and the ambulance is subject to call at any hour day and night, and requires the service of at least two members of the force to answer a call.

The board decided to hold a joint meeting with the heads of the Kingston City Hospital and the Benedictine Convent in the near future to discuss the matter and see if it would be best to turn over the ambulance service to a private party, or have the hospitals take it over, or the police department continue it with private apparatus.

Under the Irwin administration the police board decided to discontinue the ambulance service but finally came to the conclusion that it would not be good policy to do so as the hospitals had no money to carry on the service.

Townsend Mansion Burned.

Fire destroyed the old Townsend mansion situated three miles west of Highland on the New Paltz turnpike early Tuesday morning, doing a damage of $8,000, a small part of which is covered by insurance. The origin of the blaze, which started on the first floor, is a mystery. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grace and family, formerly of New York, the occupants of the house, were awakened by the smell of smoke. They managed to escape. Efforts to check the fire were futile, it spreading through the frame structure with considerable rapidity.

Presbyterian Entertainment.

This evening at eight o'clock the Ushers' Club of the Roundout Presbyterian Church will present their annual entertainment. A splendid program has been arranged and an enjoyable evening is assured all who attend. All friends of the ushers are urged to be present. Ice cream and cake will be on sale at the close of the entertainment. The usual admission will be charged.

Newburgh Coal Drop.

The coal operators will make the usual reduction of 50 cents a ton on all classes of family coal, egg, stove, chestnut and pea, on April 1. There is a possibility that war with Germany may change the scale of prices for May, but if nothing serious develops prices will be raised 10 cents a ton for five months starting May 1. —Newburgh News.

HOME ECONOMICS AT ELLENVILLE

A five day extension school in home economics will be held at Ellenville April 2 to 6, with sessions beginning at 2 o'clock and lasting for two and one-half hours each day. The school will be in charge of Miss Miriam Birdseye of Cornell and will deal with foods and the food needs of the body. In view of the present widespread interest in food it is said that a large attendance is probable and persons are urged to register during the first day of the school. The registration fee for the five days is 75 cents, or 25 cents for a single lesson.

The program by days is as follows: Monday—The needs of the body, and how these are met by our food; water, sugars and starches in the diet; cereals; demonstration—rice cookery. Tuesday—Fats and fatty foods in the diet; milk as a food; demonstration—some things one cup of milk will make. Wednesday—Nitrogen in the diet; the cooking of meats; demonstration—pork chops, and how to make and use a fireless cooker. Thursday—Why we need to supply mineral matter in the diet; demonstration—appetizing ways of preparing dried fruits and salads. Friday—Planning meals; demonstration—desserts.

The five lessons constitute a single connected discussion of points which, it is said, will help the practical housekeeper to plan her meals to meet successfully the needs of her family, as well as to prepare foods wholesomely and appetizingly.

P. O. Janitor Arrested.

LUCKY STRIKE

The real Burley cigarette

MEN who smoke Burley tobacco don't want to smoke any other kind; the green, blue, or red tin is a steady companion.

But until now Burley tobacco couldn't be had in ready-made cigarettes. Nobody knew any way to make a Burley cigarette that didn't quickly lose its flavor, when made up in that form.

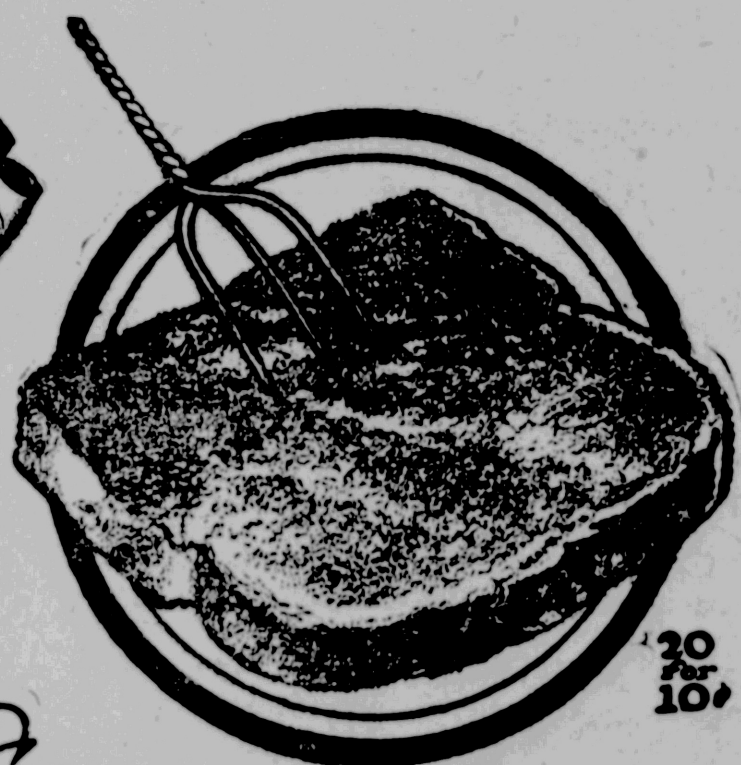

Until now, we said. Because after years of careful study and experimenting we've found a way to make a Burley cigarette that will keep its rich flavor indefinitely. We toasted the tobacco.

The thing seems simple now; it wasn't simple until we found it. The tobacco—it's toasted; you know what that means when you have a few slices of fresh, crisp, appetizing toast for breakfast; hot, buttered. So try Lucky Strike now; the tobacco—it's toasted.

It's toasted

Pay Bills Promptly.
If you pay bills promptly the man you owe will be inclined to pay his debts at once. There's an old saying that "those who go borrowing go sorrowing." You'll never contract the habit of running into debt if you meet your obligations when they are due. Paying up makes for business efficiency. There are some men rated wealthy who find it hard to get credit. Other men with nothing often can borrow vast sums. Their credit is good. They always meet their obligations. You have heard it said, "I'd sooner take that man's word than another man's bond." Be one of these men with the word. Try paying your bills promptly and see how it works.

Two Classes of Debtors.
"Avoid useless and unnecessary debt as you would a pestilence," advises a successful financier. "There are two classes of debtors. One is constructive credit, and the other is a destructive credit. On one hand a farmer or business man may borrow to buy more land, more stock, build improvements. On the other hand, borrowing may be done simply to buy an automobile or to spend in some way that the investment itself will not pay back the loan."

RHINEBECK MAN KILLED IN EUROPE

A cable from General Sarraill, commanding the Allied troops at Saloniki, on Tuesday announced that Henry E. Montgomery Suckley of Rhinebeck was killed on Monday while on duty. News of his death was received by his uncle, H. E. Montgomery of No. 80 Broad street, New York city.

Mr. Suckley was in charge of the Stock Exchange unit of the American Ambulance Field Service. He was born at Orange, N. J., thirty years ago, and was the son of Robert B. Suckley of Rhinebeck. He was graduated from Harvard University in 1910. He had served in the American Ambulance almost from the beginning of the war. After serving in the Vosges, he was transferred early in 1916 to Pone-a-Mousson, and he was there until June of that year.

The cable announcing his death was transmitted by Mr. Galetti, the second in command of the American Ambulance Field Service in Paris. Ambulance Sarraill cabled: "Suckley was seriously wounded by an airplane bomb yesterday and died this morning. He is proposed for the Legion of Honor."

Symphony Concert Tickets.

This morning the diagram was open at Winter's music store on John street for the exchange of patron tickets for the Symphony Orchestra concert to be given at the high school on Saturday evening of this week. Tomorrow, subscribers may secure their coupon tickets at the same place. Tickets have been distributed to all of the city and parochial schools for the public rehearsal in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. As these tickets are but 10 cents for the school children, and as usual the program will be given an oral explanation as well as the description given on the printed program, parents should see to it that the children take advantage of this liberal musical education, such as is counted of inestimable value in all of our largest and most progressive cities.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS.

Sore Throat.
The most frequent cause of distress or discomfort in the throat is exposure to cold and wet. Other conditions cause sore throat, such as exposure to infection. It may be of gummy or rheumatic origin. It may be excited by local irritants, such as hot drinks or the inhalation of noxious gases.
In mild cases of sore throat a gargle of a saturated solution of boracic acid, used every four hours, will give relief. In severe cases the application to the neck of cloths wrung out of cold water proves grateful. Sucking small bits of ice affords much relief.
Internal treatment is needed. For this a saltz powder is very useful or a dose of salts upon rising in the morning. If, however, there is any fever or the tonsils are red and swollen or show tiny yellow or white spots on their surface, send as soon as possible for a physician.

LYNCH TELLS WHERE DOOR IS

Amusing Incident in Trial of Stony Hollow Automobile Accident Case in Supreme Court.

The action brought by Charles Buley against Robert J. Schaffer was concluded this morning and the case sent to the jury and a verdict will probably be reached later in the day. Mr. Fessenden, attorney for the plaintiff, called Michael Lynch, a resident of Stony Hollow and an eye witness to the accident. Mr. Lynch was seated under a maple tree in his front yard a short distance from the spot of the accident and saw the car and motorcycle collide. When asked to locate the tree on a map Mr. Lynch explained that he was no engineer and could not draw a picture of the tree. Repeated questions as to the location of the tree finally resulted in Mr. Lynch inviting the attorneys, D. W. Ostrander and Newton Fessenden, to come to Stony Hollow some day and see the tree. The point was to locate the distance of the tree under which Mr. Lynch was from the point of the accident to determine how much of the accident he could see.

The tree was in front of his door he said.

"Where is the door?" asked Mr. Ostrander.

"Sure, in the house," was the answer, but the tree was not located on the map and as he left the stand after the examination he murmured: "Sure, and I have had a good conversation with ye."

Mr. Schaffer, the defendant, was placed on the stand by Mr. Ostrander. He is a blacksmith by trade and was employed at Port Jervis at the time of the accident; since then he has worked at several places. The young lady, Miss Ford, who was riding on the rear of the motorcycle, could not be produced and her testimony given at a previous trial was read. She stated that the motorcycle was on the right hand of the road and the automobile in rounding the turn could not make the turn and shot off to the left of the road and struck the motorcycle. Both she and Mr. Schaffer were injured.

Mr. Schaffer, on examination, stated that he had called on Mr. Buley a few days after the accident and they agreed to have their machines repaired and each pay for the work. This Mr. Buley denied.

Another Automobile Case.

The action brought by Henry W. Osborn of Ulster Park against Arthur Van Steenburgh, also an automobile accident case, was taken up this afternoon. Mr. Osborn was struck by the Van Steenburgh machine when he alighted from his own car along the Albany highway, north of this city.

ST. PETER'S AID OFFICERS. Affairs on Sound Financial Basis—To Attend Staats-Verband Meet.

The annual meeting of St. Peter's Sick and Aid Society was held Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance and the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Cornelius Heltzman; vice president, Nicholas Bruck, Jr.; recording secretary, Wenzel Kraus; financial secretary, Henry Bruck; treasurer, Michael Kelsch. Delegates were also appointed to attend the meeting of the Staats-Verband, which will be held in Poughkeepsie in June. It is expected that a large delegation from St. Peter's will attend the opening session, at which the Rev. John F. Neumann of this city will be one of the principal speakers. A committee was appointed to make arrangements, and it is possible that an excursion from this city to Poughkeepsie may be the outcome. The report of the treasurer showed the society to be on a strong financial basis, and during the coming year strong efforts will be made to increase the membership of the society.

Judge Cunningham to Speak.

Judge William D. Cunningham of the State Court of Claims, will speak Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's Hall. The meeting will be exclusively for men and is under the auspices of the Holy Name Society, of which Richard O'Sullivan is president. The subject of Judge Cunningham's address is Catholic Manhood, an appeal to men to live up to the highest civic and religious ideals. He is an eloquent speaker and it is expected that the hall will be crowded. Music will be in attendance.

Services at Woodstock.

Rev. Mr. Kerr will preach an Easter sermon at Woodstock next Sunday morning at 10:30, at Wittenberg at 2 p. m., and at Shady at 7:45 p. m. Also the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at each of the above churches at the close of the sermon. Rev. Kerr will be absent attending the session of the New York Conference on Easter Sunday. This is the reason why the Easter sermon will be preached next Sunday.

No Exodus of Germans.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, March 28.—Widespread reports that there has been an exodus of Germans into Mexico since the United States broke with Germany were officially denied today by the war department. The denial was based on observations made by the government's secret agents along the Rio Grande and amplified by official records of the regular immigration authorities.

GREAT MOVING PICTURE.

"Joan the Woman," to be Shown Here For Three Days.

Geraldine Farrar in "Joan the Woman," will open a three days' engagement at the Kingston Opera House Thursday afternoon, with performances each afternoon and evening. "Joan the Woman" is one of the leading motion pictures now being shown in America and marks the first appearance of Geraldine Farrar in a picture of considerable length. The scenario was written for the screen by Miss Jeanie Macpherson and many months of preparation were spent by her in collecting and assembling literature of Joan of Arc preparatory to the writing of Joan the Woman. A correspondence was carried on between Miss Macpherson and several French authorities on Joan literature and she also had access to a complete record of Joan of Arc's trial in 1431. There are eleven parts to the play, on account of whose length only one performance can be given each afternoon and one performance each evening.

Don't Cross Your Legs.

"Every time a man crosses his legs he gives his heart that much extra work to do," says William Muldoon. "You know what happens to a stream of water when you squeeze the garden hose."

This widely known physical instructor attaches great importance to proper breathing. He told me of the trouble he had in making John L. Sullivan breathe properly, and he dwelt on the harm that numbers of Americans do themselves (witness the prevalence of catarrhal affections) by the bad habit of mouth breathing.

"Keep your mouth shut. Breathe through your nostrils," he is always saying to his pupils.

If the nostrils are stopped up he explains how they may be made to function properly by simple cleansing ablutions, and he insists that these be performed regularly.

"We need filtered air just as we need filtered water, and the nose is our filter. You boys want to remember that."—Exchange.

Trees in Paris.

Paris maintains a municipal nursery where expert care and attention are given young trees. The forestry department of the city government is as well organized as the public health or cleaning department, and staff is selected carefully.

From the day it is set out in a public square or street each tree bears a distinct identity of its own and is the special ward of an expert gardener. Men who tend the trees have regular routes like lamplighters or policemen.

The height of each tree must bear a harmonious relation to second and third story windows, and, more important, its position so far as heat, light and wind exercise influences upon it, is studied.—Kansas City Journal.

Keep the Machine in Repair.

Think for a moment. A man who would no more run his motorcar on deflated tires or with sand in the gear box than he would use sulphuric acid for motive power will keep going right on at his business when the tread of his own physical mechanism is flattening out and the gear box of his mind is filling with the wrong kind of grit. The impatient optimism that shakes off a vague oppression with the assurance "I'll be all right tomorrow" has had as much to do with lengthening out the list of bankrupts as any other thing that could be named. You can't correct a bad condition by persisting in the things that cause it. You will only make it worse. You can easily enough, if you are obstinate enough, make it so much worse that it will "be the death of you," or, anyway, put you out of business.

Catalogue Your Books.

Have you ever made an alphabetical list of the books in your library?

Why not do it?

Either by title or author, but better by both.

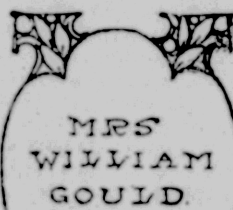

A blank book will answer, but cards are better for the purpose.

It is a great joy to watch the number grow and the only practical way to know just what you have on your own shelves.

Thoreau called books "the treasured wealth of the world," and it were well for us to know at least how much of this treasure we possess.—Exchange.

No Eggs, Milk or Butter

The following recipe shows how an appetizing, wholesome cake can be made without expensive ingredients.

In many other recipes the number of eggs may be reduced one-half or more by using an additional quantity of Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

EGGLESS, MILKLESS, BUTTERLESS CAKE

1 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 cups water
1 cup seeded raisins
2 cups citron
1/2 cup shortening

1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
5 teaspoons Cleveland's Baking Powder

The old method (fruit cake) called for 2 eggs

DIRECTIONS—Put the first eight ingredients into saucepan and boil three minutes. When cool, add the flour and baking powder which have been sifted together; mix well. Bake in moderate oven in loaf pan (round tin with hole in center is best) for 35 or 40 minutes. Ice with white icing.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

The Kingston Motor Car Exchange has sold a two-ton truck to Stewart Brothers, and a Ford car to Frank Hunter of Howland avenue.

The Kingston Nitrate Chemical Company, whose plant on the Saugerties road was destroyed by fire some time ago, continues its manufacture of Gas-Pop for automobiles, and on Monday shipped a quantity consigned to Buenos Ayres, South America.

Recovering a stolen Ford is a job to tax the ability of a Sherlock Holmes, but is what has again been done through the agency of the New York State Automobile Association. On July 10 the secretary of the state association received a telegram stating that car bearing license No. B 42-284, the property of Charles Baeder, a member of the Genesee Valley Automobile Club, had been stolen. The machinery for its recovery was set in motion at once. Telegrams were sent to the chiefs of police throughout the state, and to all the 115 clubs affiliated with the state association.

This set an army of motorists and police official looking for the stolen car. It was found by George Root, of Genesee, at Montezuma, N. Y., on September 23, and in following out the trail revealed by the evidence it was found that the car, had been stolen by Penn Ward, alias Robert Brown, assisted by Lillian Taylor, believed to be his wife. The woman pleaded guilty to the theft, and on December 15 was sentenced to fifty-nine days in the Livingston County jail. Penn Ward or Robert Brown was arrested in Rochester December 1, and on December 4 was sentenced to Auburn prison for not less than two years and not more than three years and nine months. The reward of $25 offered by the New York State Automobile Association has been paid to Mr. Root through the Genesee Valley Automobile Club.

MITCHELL STANDS PAT.

Does Not Intend to Withdraw Charges Against Wagner.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, March 28.—Mayor Mitchell does not propose to withdraw the charges he made that Senator Robert F. Wagner appeared to be working in the interests of Germany, nor does he care for any eleventh-hour peace pact. Asked today if he planned any apology to Senator Wagner, Mayor Mitchell said:

"I have not withdrawn it (the charge made against Wagner,) and I don't propose to." Mayor Mitchell refused to discuss his conference with Senator Ogden L. Mills other than today they had discussed the Wagner episode and that he had not changed his position. He said he had not been notified when to go to Albany but that he would surely go when "needed."

DEER TOOK IN WASHING.

So Irrate Farmer Shot It—Had Nibbled Trees.

Edwin Adolph, a farmer of Fort Montgomery, Orange county, was let off with a fine of $25 for shooting a buck deer because the animal ate part of the family washing as it hung up to dry.

Deer, according to Mr. Adolph, who faced a possible $500 fine, have pestered him for several months. They destroyed part of his crops, he declared, and recently began to chew the tops of young trees he had just set out. When this one chewed part of a bed sheet, and a table cloth that hung on the clothes line in the orchard Mr. Adolph lost his patience and shot it.

Other People's Money.

In handling other people's money the principal must be kept intact. If, as a trustee, those to whom you are responsible insist upon an income which you in your heart know cannot be obtained without taking some slight chance, give up the trust without hesitation, says World's Work. There is no more bitter experience through which an honest trustee or executor can pass than the rendering of an accounting for a lost or depleted trust. No reason or excuse can weigh for an instant against the actual result which he faces. A single slip in the handling of funds like this may doom all future generations of that family to lives of poverty. This is the greatest responsibility ever laid upon a trustee, an executor, a banker or an adviser, and no honest man should assume it unless he is prepared to endure for the sake of the future all the criticism that may center upon him on account of extreme conservatism in the present.

THE FRANKLIN CAR

When You Buy Your Next Fine Car, Why Not Get Rid of the One Thing That Shackles Usefulness?

EXPERIENCE is a good teacher, but when it comes to owning an automobile, being the pupil is a most unsatisfactory position.

As in the case of one of our friends who dropped into our showroom last week and said:

"The only possible way for me to hold down the expense of my heavy car is to use it less!"

And the moral in that statement is: know the weight of your car in advance.

Know how necessary light weight is to good results in—

Tire mileage
Gasoline mileage
Upkeep and Depreciation
Reliability
Comfort
Safety

While you are finding out these things, remember that Scientific Light Weight—not mere weight cutting—has been a Franklin principle for 15 years.

Get the facts behind the Scientific-Light-Weight Franklin Car, and, if you can, get the facts behind other fine makes of cars.

Here are Franklin weights, on the scales:

Not one of the open cars weighs over 2280 pounds; not one of the enclosed cars weighs over 2620 pounds.

Take these figures as your gauge for comparisons. Then let us prove Franklin light weight by a ride in the car.

After that, meet a Franklin Owner—you'll find there our source of information.

But the time to do these things is before you buy, not after you have paid the penalty of heavy weight.

She Found Liberty in the Sword

Her Name Was Joan of Arc

ACROSS the dark horizon of medieval France there flashed the figure of the greatest woman who ever lived.

From the home of a peasant she rose by her own wondrous works until she stood beside kings.

She loved peace, yet she was the greatest warrior of her age.

In the shadow of oppression she found the light of liberty in the Sword of Battle.

Joan is dead—killed by the people she loved—but her spirit lives forever.

Refining Influence.

Uncle Eben.

"Some people," said Uncle Eben, "rejoice in the truth as in a jewel. They admire it very much, but only use it on special occasions."

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, March 27.—The meeting held at Edgebrook Club House Monday afternoon in the interest of the Red Cross work had a large attendance. Committees were present from every organization in town. Mrs. O. B. Sarre of Yama Inn presided, and gave a most interesting address. It was decided to make it a town affair, to be known as the War-waring Red Cross organization. H. W. Coons spoke in the interest of all the organizations of men. After due preliminaries Mrs. Sarre was elected president and Mrs. Helen B. Holman vice president, and committees were appointed to perfect organization. Through Mrs. Sarre's kind interest a large Scotch purse, who has been an organizer of Red Cross Societies, and is resting from her work, has offered to assist and give this organization the benefit of her experience. A meeting, which everyone in the town is invited to attend, will be held in the rooms over the grocery of George J. Hounbeck on Canal street Wednesday afternoon. At this time all will be given an opportunity to join in the Red Cross work. Everybody has it on their heart, and will be ready to do all within their power to help the good work.

The Rev. W. H. Moser, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered a very able sermon at the morning service on Sunday. Dr. Moser selected his text from Hebrews 2nd chapter, 14-15 verses but the theme especially enlarged upon was "The Better Heart." At the Epworth League service at 6:45 the meeting was in charge of Mrs. E. E. Count, and the subject was "South America." The Rev. George H. Smith delivered the sermon at the evening service. The theme was, "God's Gifts to All." There were large congregations at both morning and evening service, and a good attendance at the young people's meeting.

Mrs. John Van Horn received a paper last week from her brother, Frank L. Clark, of Sioux City, Kansas, containing a splendid likeness of the Rev. E. E. Count, D. D., of Ellenville and a sketch of his life and work. Dr. Count was the speaker at a large missionary conference held there at that time.

A general "Circle" of the Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed Church will be held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. The following ladies will entertain: Miss Mary Prout, Mrs. I. W. Millard Mrs. Harry R. Carter, Mrs. Herbert Thyson and Mrs. Howard B. Dyer.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the John R. Hunt Corporation will be held at the office of the company on April 2nd at 10 o'clock a. m. Directors are to be elected.

The Rev. John J. Bott, rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit, will preach at St. John's Episcopal Church this evening.

Charles H. Post, well-known insurance man of New York, has been spending some days in town, a guest at the Mitchell House.

Eugene G. Bishop of the post office voice spent Sunday with friends at Elmhurst, Pa.

Miss Virginia Denman of Maple Avenue has accepted a position in the schools at Hagerstown, Maryland.

The Mitchell House garage is undergoing extensive repairs. It will be greatly improved by the addition of display windows on the western side.

REV. DR. DAYLIS EXONERATED. Charge of Misappropriating Funds for Allies is Dismissed.

The Rev. Dr. Charles T. Daylis, director general of the Allies Hospitals Relief Commission, who was indicted on a charge of having misappropriated the funds of the organization last fall, was exonerated Tuesday when Judge Wadhams in general sessions, on the motion of Assistant District Attorney John Minton, discharged the minister's bail bond of $2,500. This is the usual preliminary step in the quashing of an indictment.

Mr. Minton said a committee of members of the commission, composed of Colonel William C. Beecher, Dr. Albert Brundage, H. H. Westinghouse, the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, had advised him that an expert accountant had accounted for every dollar collected by Dr. Daylis. Daniel Guggenheim, from whom it was alleged Dr. Daylis collected $100 through misrepresentation, also asked that the proceedings be dropped.

Dr. Daylis is known to many persons in this city, he having spent some time here in connection with the Weinberger Steel Piling Company's business.

ULSTER PARK. Ulster Park, March 28.—The Missionary Society will hold their monthly meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. C. Van Oostenbrugge, on Friday afternoon at 2:30. All members of the congregation are urged to attend.

Leslie Herring is sick with a cold. The Misses Lois and Dorothy Hermonance of Poughkeepsie spent Saturday at their home in this place.

Mrs. Terpening and daughter, Jennie, spent Sunday with her son, Edward Terpening, of Kingston.

Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, who has been spending several weeks with her parents, has returned home.

Don't forget the Cobweb Social to be held at the home of Mrs. I. D. Church on Saturday evening, March 31.

Mrs. P. Whitaker and daughter, Mildred, of Kingston, spent Sunday with Mr. J. D. Churchwell.

Mrs. Dorothy Fuchs spent Sunday with Mary Burger of Union Center.

William Gardiner of Pratt Institute, New York city, is spending his spring vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gardiner.

Miss S. Love of Esopus spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. C. Cole.

George Keenoch of Albany spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in this place.

Always consult an architect

—he will save you much on materials and equipment

During these months of fluctuations in and scarcity of certain building materials, it is particularly important to get the help of an experienced architect.

As a "clearing house" of building experiences, and knowing thoroughly the markets and most practical equipment available, the architect will get the results you seek at least outlay!

He will save you in these times more money than ever before.

The far-sighted architect also studies the trend of building laws and future needs of house-keeping or business. He arranges the building so that it shall suit most other folks in case you later rent or sell.

An instance of his money-saving judgment—

The architect will more than earn his fee by making the radiator heating outfit cost you less than old fashioned heating devices by omitting from the plans the extra chimneys, needless mantels, useless inner doors, clumsy double window sash, weather strips, storm doors, etc. He will show you how to place your radiators and pipings to do 100% heating work. He knows how to measure the volume of heat required, and will select the special pattern of IDEAL Boiler yielding utmost heat from cheapest fuel in your locality—whether mine-run soft coal, pea coal, coke, lignites, gas, oil, etc. No need to burn expensive grades of fuel!

He knows the importance of comfort, up-keep, and depreciation

There are buildings in every county of the United States which are heated by IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. The smallest cottage as well as the largest sky-scraper, or business block, enjoys this economical, labor-saving, cleanly warmth. The architect does not have to go far to place before you a hundred testimonials as to the durability and wonderful heating service that an IDEAL outfit gives. So simple a child can run one. The outfits will last a century or so—no depreciation.

No one accepting such large responsibilities charges so little as does the architect—for his is largely a profession of public service. You should therefore take advantage of his "clearing house" of ideas and experiences by consulting him, and let him select the pattern and size of IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiators that will exactly fit your building needs.

Twentieth Century Club. Mrs. John Brodhead was the hostess of the Twentieth Century Club at its meeting on Monday. "Alaska" was the general topic of the day's study. Mrs. Brodhead having a most excellent and entertaining paper on "Picturesque Alaska." This was followed by another remarkably fine paper on "The Dog Team of Alaska," as given by Mrs. Harrison. The roll call of "Current Events" was also full of timely interest, calling forth, as did the papers, considerable discussion. The club will hold its next meeting with Mrs. John Ryder at her home on Wall street.

W. A. G. Club. The W. A. G. Club was entertained at a dinner Tuesday afternoon by Harold Friedell at her residence on Clinton avenue, and a tasty menu was served by the hostess. The club then held a regular session and discussed plans for the coming season. During the afternoon a musical program was rendered. Among the club members present were Mrs. Harold I. Van Deusen, Mrs. Robert J. Black, Mrs. Ralph B. Deyo and Mrs. Frederick Reich, Jr. The club will hold another meeting in the near future.

Monday Club. Mrs. Kenyon was the hostess of the Monday Club this week, and also had the paper for the day on "Cartoons and Cartoonists," a subject which is always especially full of interest in time of war or great political or national unrest of any sort. Mrs. Kenyon's exceedingly interesting and comprehensive paper was profusely illustrated with cartoons, both of the past and present, and for both original cartoons and excellent copies of famous cartoons of earlier days. Mrs. Kenyon stated that she was greatly indebted to Nelson Lewis of this city, who is doing some very clever work along this line. The paper was very entertaining as well as informing. Next Monday the club will meet with Mrs. William Davis at her home on Johnston avenue.

Lowell Club. The Lowell Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Schoonmaker on Washington avenue. The meeting was one of especial profit and pleasure to all present. After the roll call of "Quotations from Carlyle and Drummond," Mrs. Schoonmaker, who had the paper for the day on "David Livingstone," presented a map showing Livingstone's travels and explorations. After perusal of this map the paper, which was indeed excellent, was given, in which the life and character of this great and noble man was carefully depicted. This was followed by a shorter but fine paper on "Henry Drummond," given by Miss Baker. The last paper for the day was on "Thomas D. Carlyle," which Mrs. Hale made very interesting. The club were reminded of the Federation reception to John C. Freund at the chapel of the First Dutch Church, tomorrow, Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and to which all members of the Federation are cordially invited. The next meeting of this club will be with Mrs. W. N. Fessenden.

Soiskanshade Club. Mrs. Charles Ramsey entertained the Soiskanshade Club at her home on Monday. The club had taken a number of the banks for the Belgian blind people, and the same were returned. Following the routine business, the roll call of "Plantation and Other Popular Melodies," was in order and proved to be very interesting. Miss Cloonan had a valuable and exceedingly illuminating paper on "American Orchestral Music," in which she told of the formation of our earliest orchestras, by the musically educated Germans who came to this country. The growth and development of these orchestras, and their financial as well as artistic struggles were noted. The paper closed with a fine account of our present world-famed American orchestras. Miss Miller had the short paper for the day, on "American Musical Myths and Legends." The weird, shrill music of the American Indian and the halting, pathetic melodies of the plantation negroes were carefully described, and an excellent account was given of the efforts to preserve these, our only folk or native songs. Among the musicians who had done much in this line, MacDowell and Nevin received special mention, and it was called to mind that their works had been heard by Kingstonians, both from travelling musical companies and from the Mendelssohn Club. Following this clever paper, the club adjourned to meet next week with Mrs. Raynor at her home, No. 297 Washington avenue.

The Coterie. The Coterie met with Miss Huber on Saturday afternoon and considered as the topic of the afternoon, "Salt Lake City." Mrs. Frank Thompson had the first paper for the afternoon on "Salt Lake City, the Capital of the Arid West." Calling attention to the fact that so many settlements in this country were the outgrowth of the desire for religious liberty Mrs. Thompson cited Salt Lake City as one such. Having suffered fearful persecutions in Missouri, they took up their abode in the arid plain, the community numbering 143 persons. Conceiving and carrying into effect the idea of irrigation, and for this purpose utilizing the mountain streams, they did indeed make "the desert to blossom as the rose," until today Salt Lake City's population numbers some 109,000 individuals. Attention was called to the delightful climate, where one may enjoy a close view of the snow capped mountains, gather flowers in profusion, and take a stimulating salt bath within the hour. In telling of the industrial conditions, mention was made of the fact that there is more coal in one county of Utah than in the entire state of Pennsylvania. There are also wonderful copper mines. The city is remarkably clean, the mountain streams running through the street gutters with continually cleansing effect. The city is as progressive and up-to-date as any large city of the country and is continually growing. This most interesting and informing paper was followed by a second paper given by Mrs. Samuel Watts on the subject, "Under the Prophet in Utah." After giving quite an account of the early persecutions suffered by the Mormons, their present conditions were described, especial attention being given to the portraying of the temple with its symbolic towers; the great tabernacle with its vast seating capacity, its wonderful dome, and marvelous organ. The devoutness of the Mormons was noted, and their creed shown to be indeed inspiring and uplifting if followed out. Following the comparatively recent senatorial trouble polygamy has been forbidden. The listeners were reminded that the founder of Mormonism claimed that he, Joseph Smith, received his revelation direct from God. The present Prophet is a nephew of the first Prophet. Some time was devoted to speaking of Brigham Young and his influence. Today, only half of the population is Mormon. Formerly it was an unwritten law that the governor of the state should be a Democrat and a Mormon. Following the recent political upheaval, there is now a Democrat and a Hebrew proving himself as indeed a worthy occupant of the gubernatorial chair. Two readings followed this very illuminating paper, one on "The Mormon Prophet," given by Mrs. O'Connor; the other on the "Love of Life," by Jack London, given by Mrs. Gates. The social hour following the program was unusually enjoyable. The next club meeting will be held on Saturday of this week, at the home of Mrs. Ellis.

Contagious Diseases Among Plants. All the fungous diseases of plants, such as mildew, scab, blight, rust, etc., are contagious. The contagion is carried from year to year in the diseased part, be it leaf, fruit or branch. The presence of any of this diseased material in the orchard or vineyard increases the chance of the appearance and spread of the disease another year. Nothing is so destructive to the fungous spores as fire, and all affected plants or parts of plants should be cut out and burned.

ONE WAY TO SAVE.

Rare Sewing Opportunity for Women Willing to Learn.

In the days of our grandmothers—if not our mothers—fine sewing and home dressmaking was considered an accomplishment of which a woman was justly proud, and without which she was looked upon by her more efficient sisters as being a bit "lacking." Where there were large families, and many children to sew for, the introduction of the home sewing machine, even though it ran hard and heavily, was counted as a boon to the home mother. Then little by little ready-made garments came to be so well made and so reasonable, that with the growth of wealth on a small but general scale throughout the country, home sewing came to be disregarded as was everything which kept a woman from belonging literally as well as figuratively to the "leisure class." All of this has resulted in a deplorable lack today, on the part of the average American woman, of even the rudiments of home dressmaking, which means decided home economy, since prevalent styles make possible clever, individual and stylish remodeling of materials on hand. All of which trite and true remarks are made as the result of a conversation with Miss Zener, the representative of the White Sewing Machine, now at the Van Wageningen store, who today visited the high school domestic art department, and gave a talk to the girls in a talk to the girls in the sewing classes. The White sewing machines are used at the high school, and Miss Zener showed the students how to make use of all the newest attachments to the machine. The girls learned how to make flat fells and flat seams, to use the machine for hem-stitching and work on art materials, etc. Miss Zener was most enthusiastic in her comments upon the efficiency of the domestic art department under Miss Holmes, and in view of the present conditions in our country with the immediate possible necessity of home economy such as has not been practiced for many years, Miss Zener was of the opinion that the sewing classes were forming a nucleus of efficient womanhood that was to mean much to the community. Furthermore, the girls, and the women of the city are cordially invited to the third floor of the Van Wageningen Company while Miss Zener is here to get any information regarding these sewing machines, which they may desire or have any smallest curiosity about.

Three things about the machine are of especial note. In these strenuous days of hustling, it is noteworthy that this machine sews one-third faster than any other machine. Again, it sews on such thin fabric as Georgette or other crepes, chiffon, etc., without any vexatious drawing or puckering of the goods. Third, and perhaps most important of all, the "sit straight" machine is so made and operated as to eliminate all of the old side-ache, back-ache disadvantages, yes, even injuries, that were common with the older machines. Women of Kingston would do well just to call and see these machines and so learn what a woman can do in her home to decidedly reduce the high cost of living.

Nature's Explosion. Nature is responsible for the greatest explosion in the world's history. It blew the island of Krakaton to smithereens, blotting out every trace of a town of 60,000 people. It was caused by the floor of the sea cracking and letting in the water upon the interior fires of a volcano.

The fine ashes were so thick that it was necessary to burn lamps all day in places 600 miles away! These ashes were proved to have been carried completely round the world three times. It affected the sunsets of England for three years, giving them exceptional brilliancy. The city of Anger now lies a hundred feet below the sea.—London Mail.

POLICE BOARD TO APPOINT 100 COPS

At Special Session a Committee Was Appointed to Compile List of 100 Call Men for Emergency Purposes—Target Practice for Cops—Ambulance Service

At a special meeting of the police board held on Tuesday evening, a committee was appointed to compile a list of one hundred call men who will serve as special policemen in case of emergencies. The committee will visit the local business houses to secure permission to select from their employees men suitable to serve on this special force. All men selected must fulfill the requirements as to physical condition and age as though they were members of the regular force.

This special force will be essential in all men and subject to call for duty at any time, and only in whose employers will allow them to leave their work when called. The list of call men will not be published and they will only be called out when conditions actually warrant it to control an outbreak of any sort and to guard city property.

At the present time the police board is able to fully equip its men and other necessary equipment will be secured.

Target Practice

The necessity for target practice for members of the police force was also discussed and the board decided to buy an instrument to teach the force how to aim and fire. This instrument is known as the Hollister target practice rod indicator or dotter and is recommended by experts in the regular army.

At the present time there are not many men on the force who are white and the board decided to overcome this defect the board decided to buy the instrument named. It will be installed at police head quarters and each member will be required to practice with it.

The Ambulance Question

For several years the board has considered the advisability of disorganizing the ambulance service and maintaining it by the police department. The expense from the service is slight and the ambulance is subject to call at any hour day and night and is the service of at least two officers of the force to answer it.

The board decided to hold a joint meeting with the boards of the Kings County and the Benedictine Hospital in the near future to discuss the matter and see if it would be possible to have the ambulance service take it over or the hospital continue it with the police.

How a administration decided to discontinue ambulance service but in the conclusion that it is a good policy to do so. The hospital had no money to carry the service.

The real Burley cigarette

MEN who smoke Burley tobacco don't want to smoke any other kind; the green, blue, or red tin is a steady companion.

But until now Burley tobacco couldn't be had in ready-made cigarettes. Nobody knew any way to make a Burley cigarette that didn't quickly lose its flavor, when made up in that form.

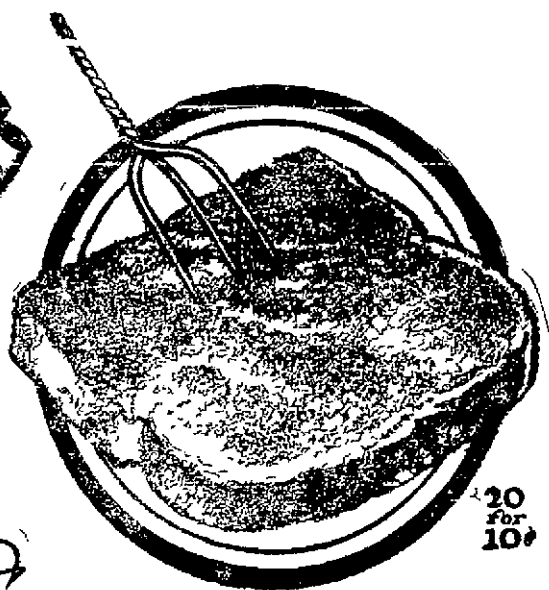

Until now, we said. Because after years of careful study and experimenting we've found a way to make a Burley cigarette that will keep its rich flavor indefinitely. We toasted the tobacco.

The thing seems simple now; it wasn't simple until we found it. The tobacco—it's toasted; you know what that means when you have a few slices of fresh, crisp, appetizing toast for breakfast; hot, buttered. So try Lucky Strike now; the tobacco—it's toasted.

Pay Bills Promptly.

If you pay bills promptly the man you owe will be inclined to pay his debts at once. There's an old saying that "those who go borrowing go sorrowing." You'll never contract the habit of running into debt if you meet your obligations when they are due. Paying up makes for business efficiency. There are some men rated wealthy who find it hard to get credit. Other men with nothing often can borrow vast sums. Their credit is good. They always meet their obligations. You have heard it said "I'd sooner take that man's word than another man's bond." Do one of these men with the word. Try paying your bills promptly and see how it works.

Two Classes of Debt.

Avoid useless and unnecessary debt as you would a pestilence, advises a successful financier. There are two classes of debt. One is constructive credit and the other is a destructive debt. On one hand a farmer or business man may borrow to buy more land, more stock, build improvements. On the other hand, borrowing may be done simply to buy an automobile or to spend in some way that the investment itself will not pay back the loan.

Worry is the under-taker's advance agent.

This evening Bayrum and Bingling's "Y" circus will play its last engagement this season at the Y. M. C. In addition to the big top performance there is the usual side show and a pet concert show, and of course the concert after the main performance.

The doors open at 6:30 o'clock and there is a free exhibition in front of the main tent at 6:45 o'clock. The side show opens at 7 o'clock in order that the freaks might have an opportunity of finishing supper for even freaks must eat while the performance under the big top starts at 8:15 with the parade of the stupendous aggregation of clowns, acrobats, gymnasts, tumblers, Japanese dancers, boxers and wrestlers and others.

The performance under the big top Tuesday evening seemed to appeal to the large audience and must be seen to be appreciated. Secretary Thornberry was ringmaster and kept things moving, and Physical Director Godfrey had charge of the athletic end of the circus.

The clowns were funny, the acrobats, gymnasts and tumblers were good and the Goisha Girls gave a pretty dance while Madam Slopover gave a pleasing "athletic dance."

BASEBALL WILL MISS MANY OLD-TIMERS

POPULAR PLAYERS WHO ARE PASSING ALONG.

Many familiar names are being missed by the fans when they read the news of the early games this year. Every season some famous ball tossers drop out of the ranks to be succeeded by young blood. Two of the greatest still survive as major league players and one as a manager. The latter is Christy Mathewson who probably never again will try to get his arm into condition to twirl. The other past masters who are beyond the forty-year mark are Honus Wagner and Eddie Plank.

Others have passed out of the big show without enjoying the many years of service of Honus or Eddie. Napoleon Lajoie, who began his big league career with the Philadelphia Nationals in 1896, will also be missed. Lajoie will manage the Toronto team of the International league. Mike Doolan has also passed to the minors, he landing a job as manager of the Rochester team.

Here are some of the players who were in the majors for several years, and who have been sent to the minors during the winter: Pitchers Chalmers and McQuillan and Outfielder Good by the Phillies to Kansas City; Chief Bender, who was unconditionally released by the Phillies; Joe Tinker, former manager and shortstop of Cincinnati, the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago Federals, who will manage the Columbus club; Mordcan Brown, former pitcher of the Cubs, who has not landed a berth; Nap Rucker, formerly of Brooklyn, who retired after achieving his ambition of pitching in a world's series game; George McConnell, who was sent by the Chicago Cubs to the Kansas City club; "Babe" Borton, who once figured in a deal with Zelde for Hal Chase, who was sent to Portland by the St. Louis Browns; Ed Walsh, who was let out by the Chicago White Sox; "Germany" Schafer, who was released unconditionally by the New York Americans, and Jean Dubuc, who was sent to the Salt Lake City club by Detroit.

LITTLE PICK-UPS OF SPORT

Joie Ray is a great runner, but he has nothing on Fred Welsh.

The University of Syracuse baseball nine will play 20 games this year.

Doesn't look as if Connie Mack would develop many players good enough to sell this year.

Pugilists are the only fellows who get good money for striking, and then half the time they don't.

Croquet originated in France, but you'd never suspect it the way they Frenchmen are fighting.

There are about a dozen pro-ball clubs in New York state, and yet they talk of abolishing fighting.

Mal Eason has been released as a National league umpire, but Stallings and Johnny Evers are still left.

The Cincinnati Reds always have a great ball club except in April, May, June, July, August and September.

Don't get your Johnsons of the Athletic team, mixed, Jing and Ellis are pitchers and Bill is an outfielder bold.

Manager Lee Fohl of Cleveland says the four teams that will be in the race this year are Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and Boston.

There is a scarcity of material for making billiard balls. No wonder; they have been making heads for ball players out of it.

Jimmie Smith, a shortstop on the Pittsburgh National league team, has been sent to the Toronto club of the International league.

Big league managers who have been engrossed all winter winning pennants are fully occupied now with one hard proposition after another.

Lajoie day will be celebrated in Toronto next season when one of the American league teams plays an exhibition game with Toronto.

The failure to secure permission to play Sunday ball in Little Rock means the dating of the Little Rock team for many Sunday games in Memphis again.

SWEDISH RUNNER WINS RACE

Captures 26-Mile Bronx Marathon in Phenomenal Time of 2:40:25 Over Slushy Course.

Over snowcapped hills and slush-covered roads, Hans Shusten, a Swede, scampered the 26 miles in the course of the Bronx Marathon, under the auspices of the Pennant Athletic club of New York city, completing the distance in 2 hours, 40 minutes and 25 seconds, his phenomenal feat, under such conditions, lopping 8 minutes and 15 seconds from the record established by Arthur Roth, of the Mohawk Athletic club a year ago. Even under favorable conditions the performance would have stood out as extraordinary. Harry Lucas, 15 yards behind, was second, while more than a mile and a half to the rear was Roth. The accompanying picture shows Shusten hitting it up near the finish line. To many of the thousands who witnessed the finish, and watched the runners plow through the slush, it appeared as though there were other forms of sport preferable to Marathoning.

RULES LEARNED BY INSTINCT

Three Major League Captains Admit They Never Read Them—Never Forget Unusual Rulings.

Three major league baseball captains, in a recent discussion, admitted that they had never read the rules. Baseball is a game that has come to most of the major league players by instinct, and they pick up the rules as they go along. Most of them never forget a ruling on an unusual play, but seldom know correct interpretation or wording of a rule.

Jamaica Exports.

More than 70 per cent of the exports of Jamaica come to the United States.

John McGraw evidently has picked up another Charley Faust in Bill Baars, who is being used as a coach. Baars has a fog horn voice that is a thing of beauty in its way.

RHINEBECK MAN KILLED IN EUROPE

A cable from General Sarrai, commanding the Allied troops at Saloniki, on Tuesday announced that Henry E. Montgomery Suckley of Rhinebeck was killed on Monday while on duty. News of his death was received by his uncle, H. E. Montgomery of No. 80 Broad street, New York city.

Mr. Suckley was in charge of the Stock Exchange unit of the American Ambulance Field Service. He was born at Orange, N. J., thirty years ago and was the son of Robert B. Suckley of Rhinebeck. He was graduated from Harvard University in 1910. He had served in the American Ambulance almost from the beginning of the war. After serving in the Vosges he was transferred early in 1916 to Pone-a-Mousson, and he was there until June of that year.

The cable announcing his death was transmitted by Mr. Galetti, the second in command of the American Ambulance Field Service in Paris. Ambulance Sarrai cabled:

"Suckley was seriously wounded by an airplane bomb yesterday and died this morning. He is proposed for the Legion of Honor."

Symphony Concert Tickets.

This morning the program was open at Winter's music store on John street for the exchange of patron tickets for the Symphony Orchestra concert to be given at the high school on Saturday evening of this week. Tomorrow, subscribers may secure their coupon tickets at the same place. Tickets have been distributed to all of the city and parochial schools for the public rehearsal in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. As these tickets are but 10 cents for the school children, and as usual the program will be given an oral explanation as well as the description given on the printed program, parents should see to it that the children take advantage of this liberal musical education, such as is counted of inestimable value in all of our largest and most progressive cities.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS.

Sore Throat.
The most frequent cause of distress or discomfort in the throat is exposure to cold and wet. Other conditions cause sore throat, such as exposure to infection. It may be of gouty or rheumatic origin. It may be excited by local irritants, such as hot drinks or the inhalation of noxious gases.
In mild cases of sore throat a gargle of a saturated solution of boracic acid, used every four hours, will give relief. In severe cases the application to the neck of cloths wrung out of cold water proves grateful. Sucking small bits of ice or cold milk will help.
Internal treatment is needed. For this a saltz powder is very useful or a dose of salts upon rising in the morning. If, however, there is any fever or the tonsils are red and swollen or show tiny yellow or white spots on their surface, send as soon as possible for a physician.

LYNCH TELLS WHERE DOOR IS

Amusing Incident in Trial of Stony Hollow Automobile Accident Case in Supreme Court.

The action brought by Charles Buley against Robert J. Schaffer was concluded this morning and the case sent to the jury and a verdict will probably be reached later in the day. Mr. Fessenden, attorney for the plaintiff, called Michael Lynch, a resident of Stony Hollow and an eye witness to the accident. Mr. Lynch was seated under a maple tree in his front yard a short distance from the spot of the accident and saw the car and motorcycle collide. When asked to locate the tree on a map Mr. Lynch explained that he was no engineer and could not draw a picture of the tree. Repeated questions as to the location of the tree finally resulted in Mr. Lynch inviting the attorney, D. W. Ostrander and Newton Fessenden, to come to Stony Hollow some day and see the tree. The point was to locate the distance of the tree under which Mr. Lynch was from the point of the accident to determine how much of the accident he could see.

The tree was in front of his door he said.

"Where is the door?" asked Mr. Ostrander.

"Sure, in the house," was the answer, but the tree was not located on the map and as he left the stand after the examination he murmured: "Sure, and I have had a good conversation with ye."

Mr. Schaffer, the defendant, was placed on the stand by Mr. Ostrander. He is a blacksmith by trade and was employed at Port Jervis at the time of the accident; since then he has worked at several places. The young lady, Miss Ford, who was riding on the rear of the motorcycle, could not be produced and her testimony given at a previous trial was read. She stated that the motorcycle was on the right hand of the road and the automobile in rounding the turn could not make the turn and shot off to the left of the road and struck the motorcycle. Both she and Mr. Schaffer were injured.

Mr. Schaffer, on examination stated that he had called on Mr. Buley a few days after the accident and they agreed to have the machines repaired and each pay for the work. This Mr. Buley denied.

Another Automobile Case.

The action brought by Henry W. Osborn of Ulster Park against Arthur Van Stoenburgh, also an automobile accident case, was taken up this afternoon. Mr. Osborn was struck by the Van Stoenburgh machine when he alighted from his own car along the Albany highway, north of this city.

ST. PETER'S AID OFFICERS.

Plans on Sound Financial Basis—To Attend Staats-Verband Meet.

The annual meeting of St. Peter's Sick and Aid Society was held Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance and the election of officers resulted as follows. President, Cornelius Heltman; vice president, Nicholas Bruch; Jr.; recording secretary, Wenzel Kraus; financial secretary, Dennis Bruch; treasurer, Michael Kelsch. Delegates were also appointed to attend the meeting of the Staats-Verband, which will be held in Poughkeepsie in June. It is expected that a large delegation from St. Peter's will attend the opening session, at which the Rev. John P. Neumann of this city will be one of the principal speakers. A committee was appointed to make arrangements, and it is possible that an excursion from this city to Poughkeepsie may be the outcome. The report of the treasurer showed the society to be on a strong financial basis, and during the coming year strong efforts will be made to increase the membership of the society.

Judge Cunningham to Speak.

Judge William D. Cunningham of the State Court of Claims, will speak Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's Hall. The meeting will be exclusively for men and is under the auspices of the Holy Name Society, of which Richard O'Sullivan is president. The subject of Judge Cunningham's address is Catholicism, an appeal to men to live up to the highest civil and religious ideals. He is an eloquent speaker and it is expected that the hall will be crowded. Music will be in attendance.

Services at Woodstock.

Rev. Mr. Kerr will preach an Easter sermon at Woodstock next Sunday morning at 10:30, at Wittenberg at 2 p. m., and at Shady at 7:45 p. m. Also the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at each of the above churches at the close of the sermon. Rev. Kerr will be absent attending the session of the New York Conference on Easter Sunday. This is the reason why the Easter sermon will be preached next Sunday.

No Exodus of Germans.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, March 28.—Widespread reports that there has been an exodus of Germans into Mexico since the United States broke with Germany were officially denied today by the war department. The denial was based on observations made by the government's secret agents along the Rio Grande and amplified by official records of the regular immigration authorities.

Sixty to Attend Dinner.

Upwards of 60 will be in attendance tonight at the Rotary Club dinner at the West Shore Hotel where John C. Freund will be the guest of honor. Thirty well known musicians of the city will be in attendance.

Snow Clears Today.

Kingston was visited with snow storms this morning but the snow melted as fast as it fell.

"Joan the Woman," to be Shown Here For Three Days.

Geraldine Farrar in "Joan the Woman," will open a three days' engagement at the Kingston Opera House Thursday afternoon, with performances each afternoon and evening. "Joan the Woman" is one of the leading motion pictures now being shown in America and marks the first appearance of Geraldine Farrar in a picture of considerable length. The scenario was written for the screen by Miss Jeanie Macpherson and many months of preparation were spent by her in collecting and assembling literature of Joan of Arc preparatory to the writing of "Joan the Woman." A correspondence was carried on between Miss Macpherson and several French authorities on Joan literature and she also had access to a complete record of Joan of Arc's trial in 1431. There are eleven parts to the play, on account of whose length only one performance can be given each afternoon and one performance each evening.

Don't Cross Your Legs. "Every time a man crosses his legs he gives his heart that much extra work to do," says William Muldoon. "You know what happens to a stream of water when you squeeze the garden hose."

This widely known physical instructor attaches great importance to proper breathing. He told me of the trouble he had in making John L. Sullivan breathe properly, and he dwelt on the harm that numbers of Americans do themselves (witness the prevalence of catarrhal affections) by the bad habit of mouth breathing.

"Keep your mouth shut. Breathe through your nostrils," he is always saying to his patients.

If the nostrils are stopped up he explains how they may be made to function properly by simple cleansing operations, and he insists that these be performed regularly.

"We need filtered air just as we need filtered water, and the nose is our filter. You boys want to remember that."—Exchange.

Trees in Paris.

Paris maintains a municipal nursery where expert care and attention are given young trees. The forestry department of the city government is as well organized as the public health or cleaning department, and staff is selected carefully.

From the day it is set out in a public square or street each tree bears a distinct identity of its own and is the special ward of an expert gardener. Men who tend the trees have regular routes like lamp-lighters or policemen.

Every tree is numbered, and a record of its development and its condition is kept—its state of health, the dates on which trimming or pruning is necessary and all other details.

The height of each tree must bear a harmonious relation to second and third story windows, and, more important, its position so far as heat, light and wind exercise influences upon it, is studied.—Kansas City Journal.

Keep the Machine in Repair.

Think for a moment. A man who would no more run his motorcar on deflated tires or with sand in the gear box than he would use sulphuric acid for motive power will keep going right on at his business when the tread of his own physical mechanism is flapping out and the gear box of his mind is filling with the wrong kind of grit. The impatient optimism that shakes off a vague oppression with the assurance "It'll be all right tomorrow" has had as much to do with lengthening out the list of bankruptcies as any other thing that could be named. You can't correct a bad condition by persisting in the things that cause it. You will only make it worse. You can easily enough, if you are obstinate enough, make it so much worse that it will "be the death of you," or, anyway, put you out of business.

Catalogue Your Books.

Have you ever made an alphabetical list of the books in your library? Why not do it?

Either by title or author, but better by both.

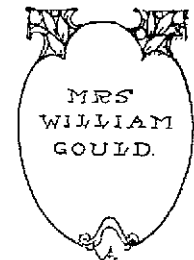

A blank book will answer, but cards are better for the purpose.

It is a great joy to watch the number grow and the only practical way to know just what you have on your own shelves.

Thoreau called books "the treasured wealth of the world," and it were well for us to know at least how much of this treasure we possess.—Exchange.

More failures are due to lack of will than to lack of strength.

FORMER NEW YORKER NOW NURSING SOLDIERS.

Mrs. William Gould, who before her marriage was Miss Ethel Blanche Sanders, of New York, she is now actively engaged in Red Cross work in England. The services of nurses are at a premium, as thousands of wounded soldiers are being received in home hospitals from the battle fronts across the channel.

No Eggs, Milk or Butter

The following recipe shows how an appetizing, wholesome cake can be made without expensive ingredients.

In many other recipes the number of eggs may be reduced one-half or more by using an additional quantity of Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

EGGLESS, MILKLESS, BUTTERLESS CAKE

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup water
1 cup seeded raisins
2 ounces citron
1/2 cup shortening

1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
5 teaspoons Cleveland's Baking Powder

The old method (fruit cake) called for 2 eggs

DIRECTIONS: Put the first eight ingredients into saucepan and boil three minutes. When cool, add the flour and baking powder which have been sifted together; mix well. Bake in moderate oven in loafpan (round tin with hole in center is best) for 35 or 40 minutes. Ice with white icing.

Booklet of recipes which economize in eggs and other expensive ingredients mailed free. Address 135 William Street, New York.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

The Kingston Motor Car Exchange has sold a two-ton truck to Stewart Brothers, and a Ford car to Frank Dunton of Howland avenue.

The Kingston Nitrate Chemical Company, whose plant on the Saugerties road was destroyed by fire some time ago, continues its manufacture of Gas-Pop for automobiles, and on Monday shipped a quantity consigned to Buenos Ayres, South America.

Recovering a stolen Ford is a job to tax the ability of a Sherlock Holmes, but is what has again been done through the agency of the New York State Automobile Association. On July 10 the secretary of the state association received a telegram stating that car bearing license No. B 45-284, the property of Charles Haeder, a member of the Genesee Valley Automobile Club, had been stolen. The machinery for its recovery was set in motion at once. Telegrams were sent to the chiefs of police throughout the state, and to all the 115 clubs affiliated with the state association.

This set an army of motorists and police official looking for the stolen car. It was found by George Root, of Genesee, at Montezuma, N. Y., on September 23, and in following out the trail revealed by the evidence it was found that the car had been stolen by Pena Ward, alias Robert Brown, assisted by Lillian Taylor, believed to be his wife. The woman pleaded guilty to the theft, and on December 15 was sentenced to fifteen days in the Livingston County jail. Pena Ward or Robert Brown was arrested in Rochester December 1, and on December 4 was sentenced to Auburn prison for not less than two years and not more than three years and nine months. The reward of $25 offered by the New York State Automobile Association has been paid to Mr. Root through the Genesee Valley Automobile Club.

MITCHELL STANDS PAT.

Does Not Intend to Withdraw Charges Against Wagner.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, March 28.—Mayor Mitchell does not propose to withdraw the charges he made that Senator Robert F. Wagner appeared to be working in the interests of Germany, nor does he care for any eleventh-hour peace pact.

Asked today if he planned any apology to Senator Wagner, Mayor Mitchell said: "I have not withdrawn it (the charge made against Wagner) and I don't propose to."

Mayor Mitchell refused to discuss his conference with Senator Ogden L. Mills other than to say they had discussed the Wagner episode and that he had not changed his position.

He said he had not been notified when in go to Albany but that he would surely go when "needed."

DEER TAKEN IN WASHING.

So Late Farmer Shot It—Had Nibbled Trees.

Edwin Adolph, a farmer of Port Montgomery, Orange county, was let off with a fine of $25 for shooting a buck deer because the animal ate part of the family washing as it hung up to dry.

Deer, according to Mr. Adolph, who faced a possible $500 fine, have bothered him for several months. They destroyed part of his crops, he declared, and recently began to chew the tops of young trees he had just set out. When this one caught part of a bed sheet, and a table cloth that hung on the clothes line in the orchard Mr. Adolph lost his patience and shot it.

Other People's Money.

In handling other people's money the principal must be kept intact. If, as a trustee, those to whom you are responsible insist upon an income which you in your heart know cannot be obtained without taking some slight chance, give up the trust without hesitation, says World's Work. There is no more bitter experience through which an honest trustee or executor can pass than the rendering of an accounting for a lost or depleted trust. No reason or excuse can weigh for an instant against the actual result which he faces. A single slip in the handling of funds like this may doom all future generations of that family to lives of poverty. This is the greatest responsibility ever laid upon a trustee, an executor, a banker or an adviser, and no honest man should assume it unless he is prepared to endure for the sake of the future all the criticism that may center upon him on account of extreme conservatism in the present.

The Wolf.

Motorist (to chauffeur):—"Drive the wolf from the door into the garage. Jim. I'm done with it for today."

THE FRANKLIN CAR

When You Buy Your Next Fine Car, Why Not Get Rid of the One Thing That Shackles Usefulness?

EXPERIENCE is a good teacher, but when it comes to owning an automobile, being the pupil is a most unsatisfactory position.

As in the case of one of our friends who dropped into our showroom last week and said:

"The only possible way for me to hold down the expense of my heavy car is to use it less!"

And the moral in that statement is: know the weight of your car in advance.

Know how necessary light weight is to good results in—

Tire mileage
Gasoline mileage
Upkeep and Depreciation
Reliability
Comfort
Safety

While you are finding out these things, remember that Scientific Light Weight—not mere weight cutting—has been a Franklin principle for 15 years.

Get the facts behind the Scientific-Light-Weight Franklin Car, and, if you can, get the facts behind other fine makes of cars.

Here are Franklin weights, on the scales:

Not one of the open cars weighs over 2280 pounds; not one of the enclosed cars weighs over 2620 pounds.

Take these figures as your gauge for comparisons. Then let us prove Franklin light weight by a ride in the car.

After that, meet a Franklin Owner—you'll find there our source of information.

But the time to do these things is before you buy, not after you have paid the penalty of heavy weight.

A Convenience.

It is often necessary to keep a hat box on a high shelf. In that case the following method is found convenient. Silt the two upright edges of one side of the box so that when the cover is raised this side will drop down as if on hinges. This, of course, allows the hat to be removed without taking the box from the shelf.

The Iris.

The Iris is supposed to be the fleur-de-lis, or flower-de-luce of the French coat of arms, but really has nothing to do with the design, this being of recent application. The origin of the design is not known, but it is generally believed to represent the head of a spear; by others the flower of a lily, the floral emblem of France.

Not in Vain.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and singly toward an object and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires, is he not elevated? Did ever a man try heretofore, unavailingly, truth, sincerity, and find that there was no advantage in them—that it was a vain endeavor?

She Found Liberty in the Sword

Her Name Was Joan of Arc

ACROSS the dark horizon of medieval France there flashed the figure of the greatest woman who ever lived.

From the home of a peasant she rose by her own wondrous works until she stood beside kings.

She loved peace, yet she was the greatest warrior of her age.

In the shadow of oppression she found the light of liberty in the Sword of Battle.

Joan is dead—killed by the people she loved—but her spirit lives forever.
